Steer by the Stars

Our national goals have recently caused concern. What are they? Have we lost them? The nation expresses itself through the individual; it is through us that the nation thinks and feels.

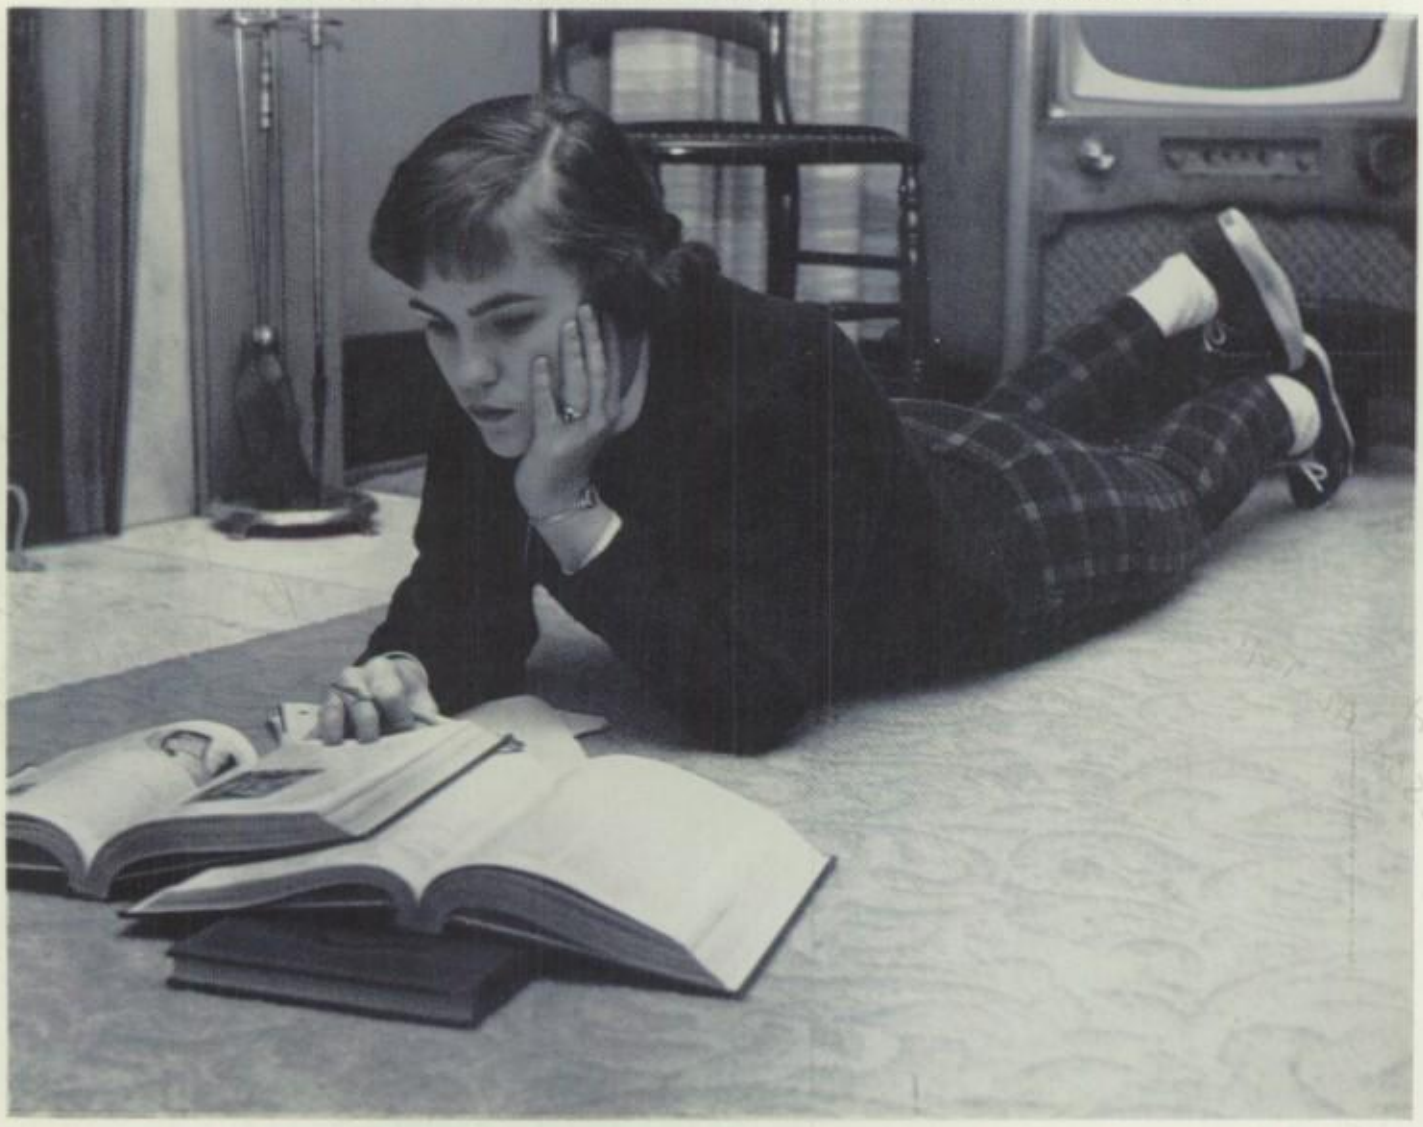
These are important years to us as young adults. Eager to learn, we break through the turbid, surrounding stream of life, searching for a foothold—a purpose in life.

As we seek to develop and enrich ourselves, our aims become clearer, our aspirations surer. Friends guide us when discouragement throws us off. Learning to use our natural talents, we strive to excel, to be recognized and respected.

Our worth, our struggle for ideals, is one of the measures of the nation's wealth. We know what it is to be a good American—more than that, a good person. Our education is a bright, new star to steer by—look to the new star.

HELPING POLIO SUFFERERS, Kay Schwartz sells Easter Seals to Mrs. Hamner.

WE EXPRESS our feelings about our national goals through themes and speeches.



THE PRESIDENTIAL election produces friendly rivalry between Tom Newell and Nancy Kelley.

Search for their Understanding

Sharing our hopes and fears with others, we form bonds with things outside ourselves. We seek understanding in others for our enjoyment of life depends upon our relationship with people.

We help and comfort each other, increasing our bonds through mutual good feeling. Friendship means responsibility to others—consideration of their feelings and interest in their aspirations.

Recognized and respected for our true worth, we find in fellowship satisfaction and a sense of belonging. The powerful spirit of youth tempered with the prudence of maturity surges through us, searching for understanding.

HANS KAESTNER, our American Field Service student, enjoys an evening meal with his host family, the Sandersons.

A FALL AFTERNOON ride deepens our understanding of nature.

MUTUAL good feeling!

Look Within

Awakened by the moving and singing of the world, we quench the thirst of curiosity with the pleasure of discovery. Life unfolds its variety of thoughts and action to us through our senses. Each of us looks within to find what we can offer the world.

Learning and feeling, we seek to develop our senses. Our interests lead us to new discoveries in art, music, literature, and the dance. We discover a rich, lively world in ourselves through stimulation of our minds.

PERFECTION IN MODERN dance demands long hours of practice from Mary Kay Thompson.

COMPELLED BY CURIOSITY, we search for knowledge in the thoughts of others.

DETERMINATION, perseverance, and constant rehearsal bring Jean Szepessy closer to mastery of the violin.

MOLDING THEIR CREATIVE energies into tangible form, Randy Potter and Bev Larence blend architectural forms with nature.

THE TROPHY CASE symbolizes past accomplishments.

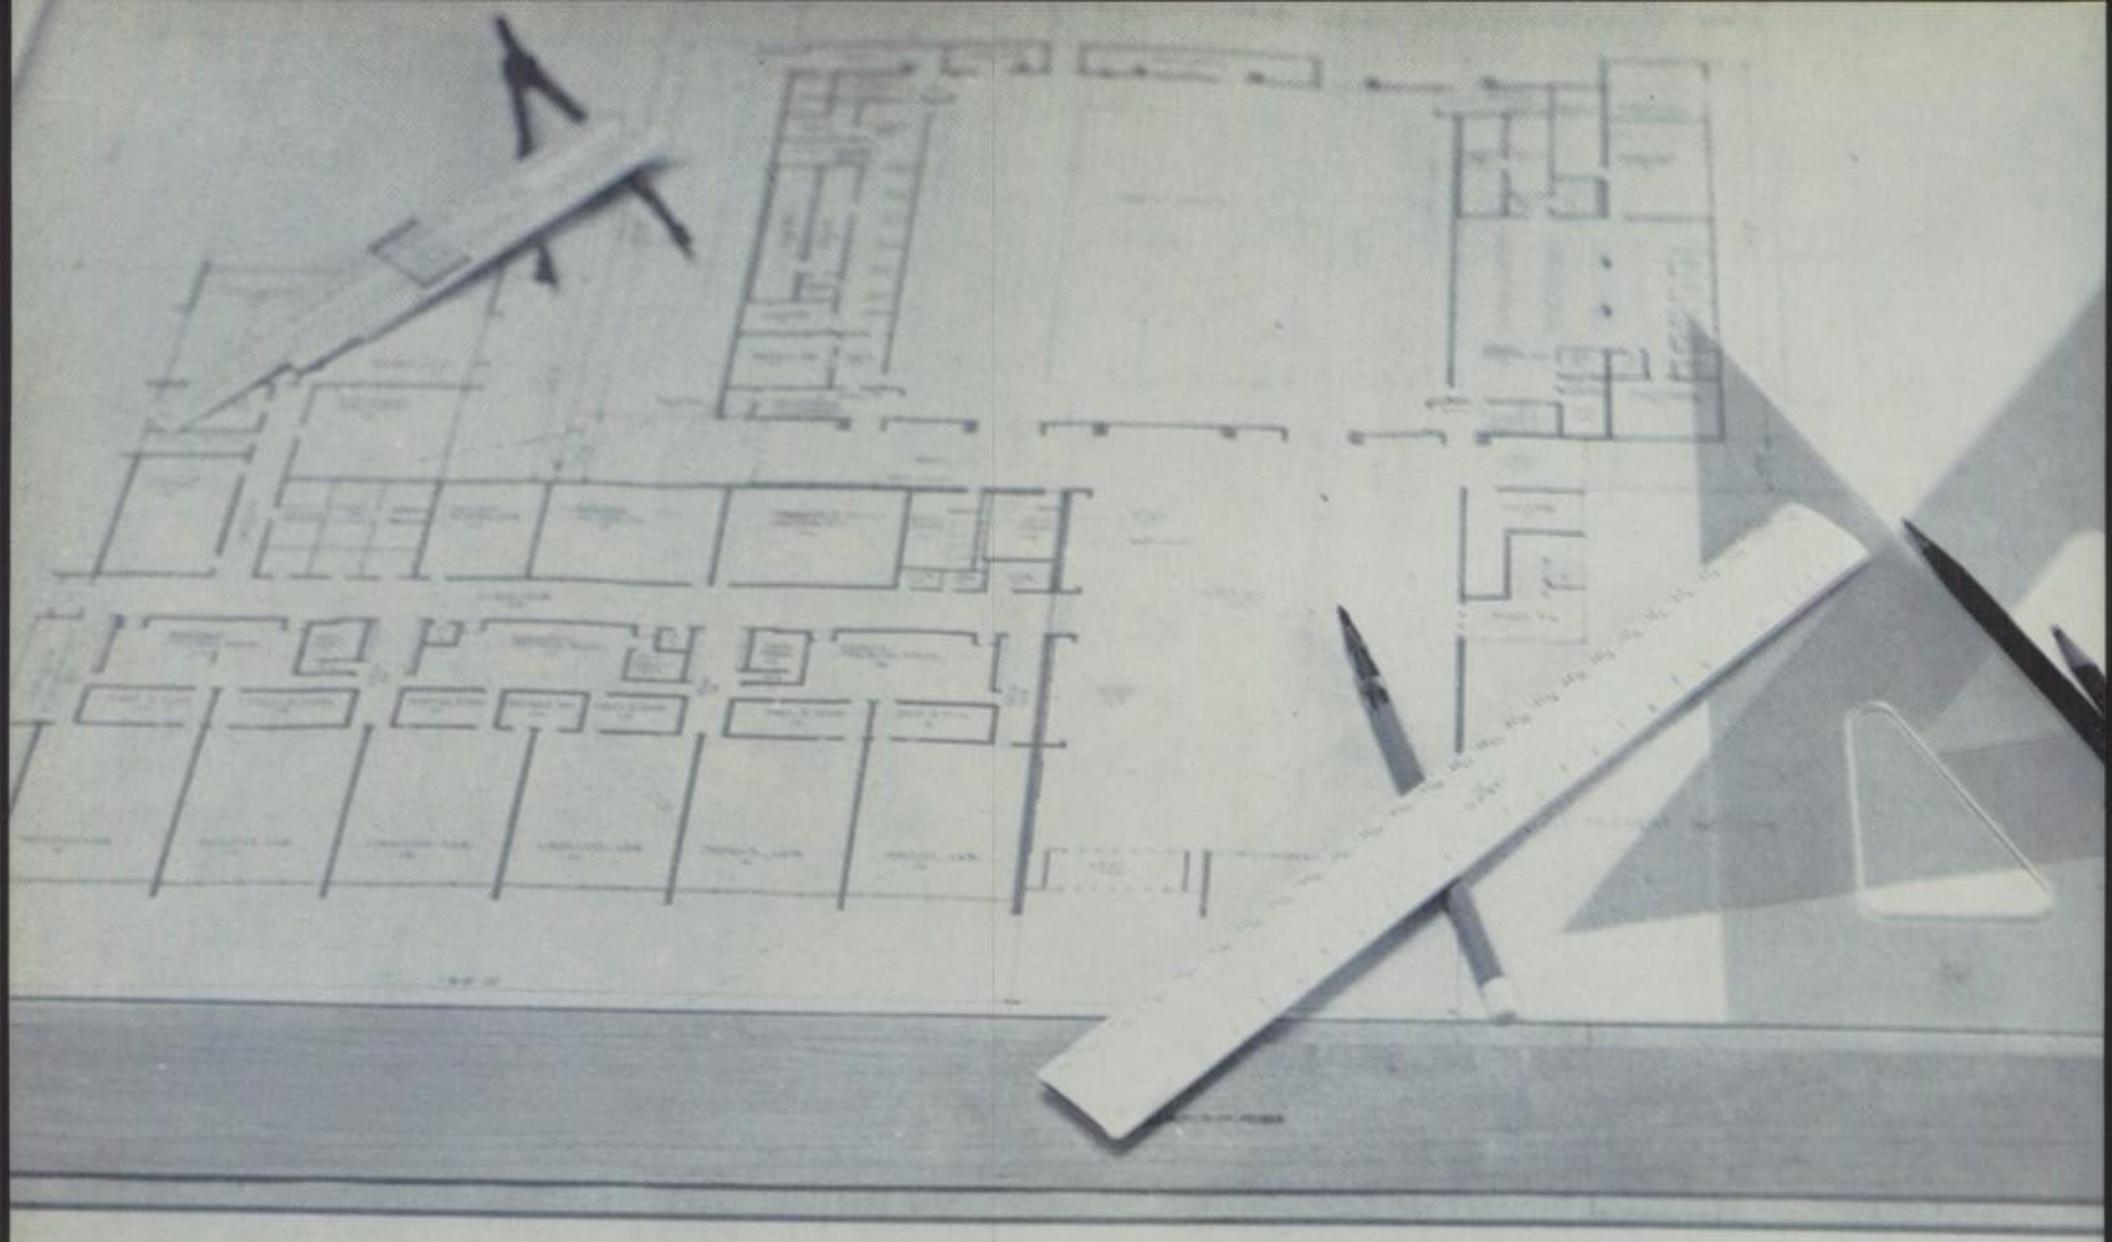
JUMPING FOR THE BALL, Bill Banta tries to outdo his opponent.

Take the Challenge

Each day the world challenges us again. We take the challenge to do our best. Hard work and perseverance is the way to that goal. Competition spurs us on, stimulating our minds and bodies to make progress. Enthusiasm and ability, and hard work unite in us to help us win in the contest with life.

Recognition and honor, or knowledge and understanding may be our reward, but belief in ourselves is the most lasting one.

Our daily work at school and at home is a constant challenge. Finding the strength, we set our pace toward distant goals.



BY PASSING THE referendum, the voters made possible a new science wing and spectator gym for Peoria High which will meet the needs of our progressing world.

Hold Your Course

We have responsibilities to ourselves and our society. As school citizens we contribute to the good of the school. Good citizenship means tolerance and respect for others.

Upholding and widening the goals of good citizenship, we seek to strengthen our school's government. Full participation and interest in the governmental procedures at school awakens us to the importance of active citizens in an everchanging world.

Looking forward to when we will govern the nation, we realize the importance of keeping an open mind and holding on to the dreams of our forefathers.

Dedication

The Crest Staff consists of members of the three classes of Central. They like many of the other members of Central's Sophomore, Junior and Senior classes have been a part of Peoria High's recent up-grading in general scholarship. They represent a generation of students. Like their fellow students they have felt the infusion of higher standards in their curriculums and the introduction of enriched classes as a challenge to the better students. The success of this program has been due largely to the expert leadership of one man who you might say belongs to the same generation as our present student body. Therefore, we the Editors and members of the Staff wish to dedicate the 1961 CREST to

Mr. Max W. Mills.

FACULTY-ACADEMIC

Max W. Mills

Our Capable

The sincere, hard-working principal of Peoria High School, Max W. Mills, has endeavored to develop a program based on high academic standards which will produce intelligent, thinking students who are prepared to meet life as capable citizens. Mr. Mills is deeply interested in every student and all of the activities at Central. An enthusiastic fan of sports, he attends every game he can, proud of the quality and good sportsmanship of the players.

Harvey L. Tucker, Assistant Principal, works to improve the spirit and accomplishments of the students. He helps them to have respect for authority and themselves and also encourages them to do their best through acceptance of responsibility. His dedication has helped him steady many faltering students.

The Dean of Girls, Miss Florence Poshard, strives to understand the problems which confront girls, giving her personal assistance to those who need it. Firm in her beliefs, she counsels the girls wisely.

Harvey L. Tucker

Florence Poshard

Administrators

Through the perseverance and hard work of the eight elected members of the Board of Education, a bond issue passed this year which will bring Central a whole new science wing and a spectator gym. The science program will now be increased to meet the growing demand for scientists, while a gym of our own was badly needed.

The Board has already accomplished the construction of a new auto mechanics building which replaced the old one that is to be torn down for the freeway.

The members work constantly to improve our educational facilities and quality of teaching. They meet bi-weekly to solve the budget, building, and educational problems which are ever present.

The Board of Education plays an important part in the lives of the students and the teachers. It is a definite asset to our community.

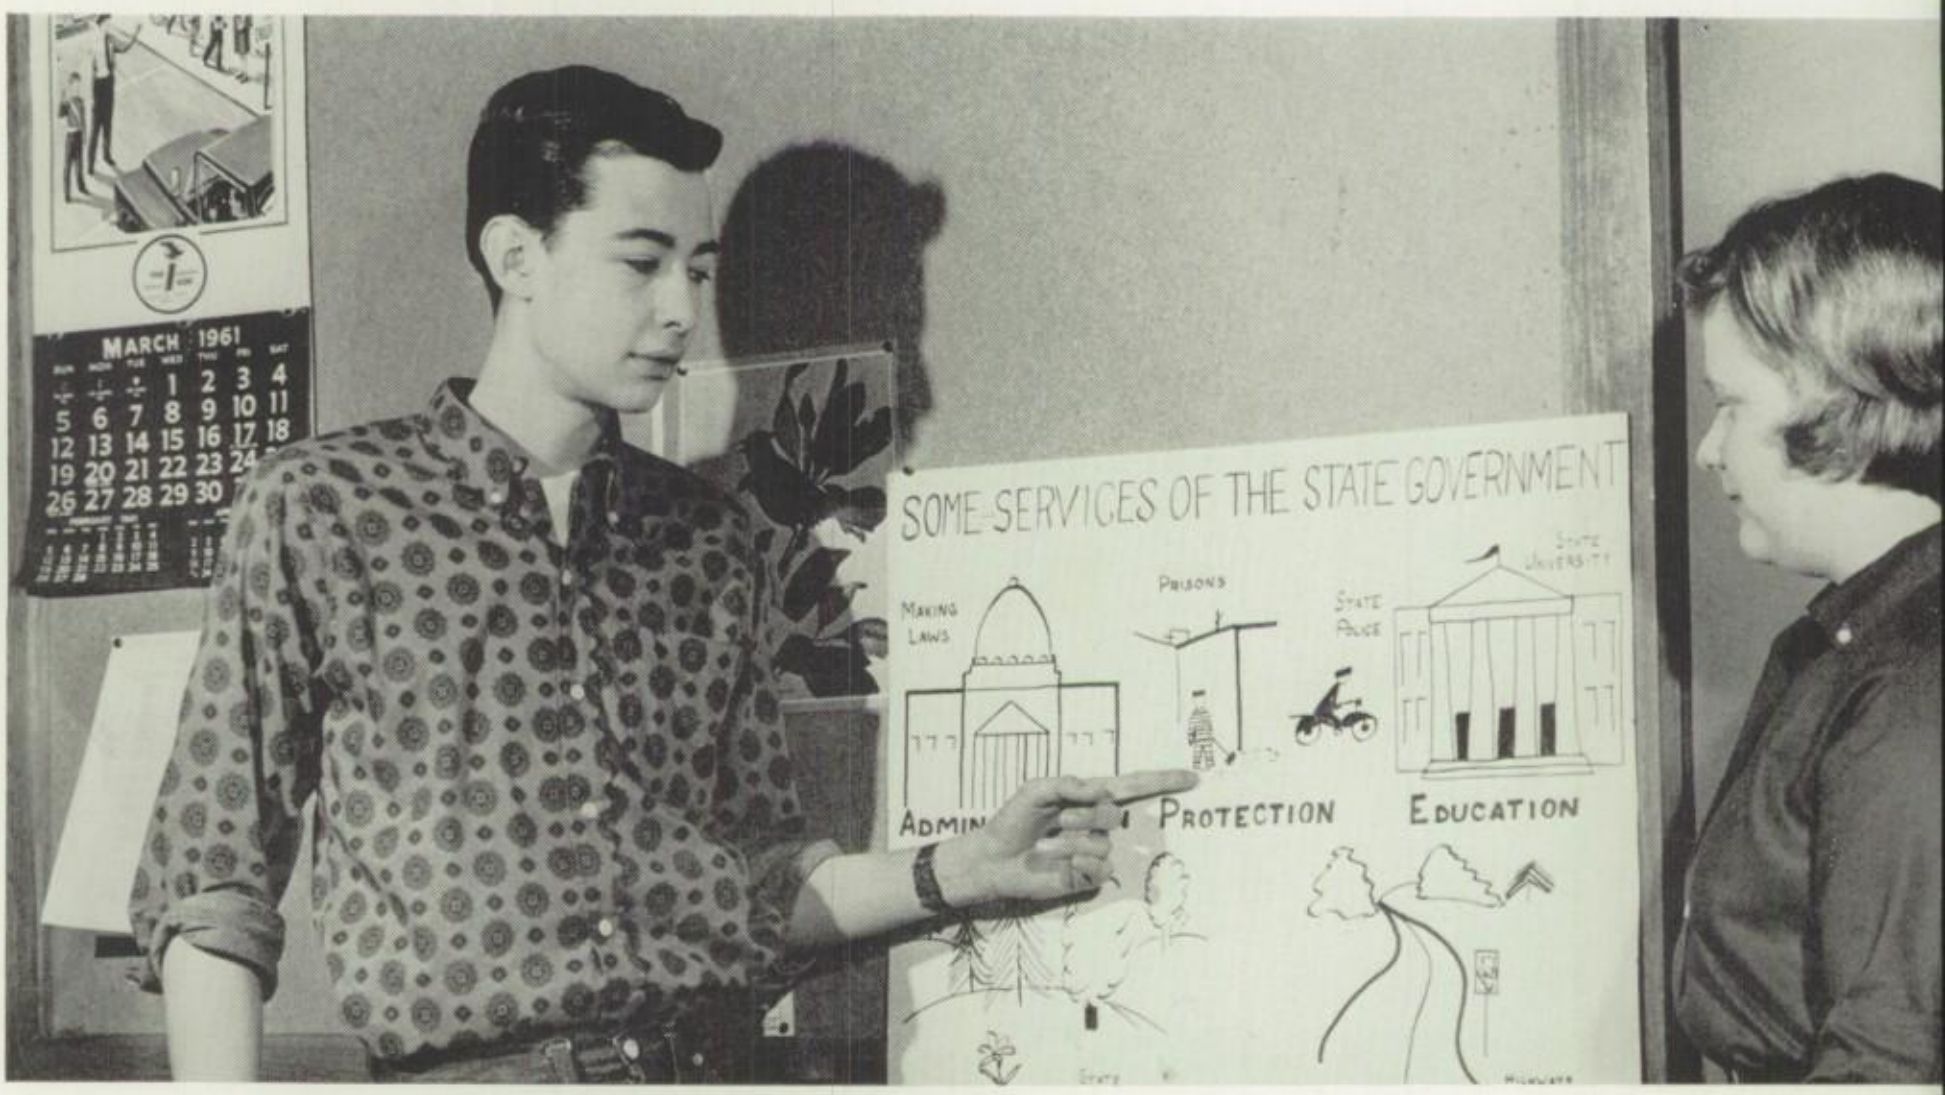
Literature and History Provide

The English and social science departments share similar goals—awakening the students' interest in the world. History courses enable them to follow the development of society. Social studies majors discuss causes and effects of war, from tribal misunderstandings to World War II. The study of great men's lives and philosophies brings the ancient world closer to our own.

Students of economics and civics learn the basic principles beneath the United States' monetary and political systems.

Debate, knowledge in action, develops young vigorous minds into those of clear-thinking adults. When a student must reinforce his views with facts, he soon learns to express himself succinctly. The debater is a student alert to world problems.

Through the study of grammar, the students learn to appreciate the skill with which good literature is written.



CIVICS TEACHES DENNIS Belcher and Margie Keller about the various functions of the state.

MR. WHITAKER LOOKS on as his practice teacher, Jackqui Natarnicola, prepares an assignment for sophomore English students.

Basis for Future Learning

Adventure, terror, and wonder fill the freshman English students' imagination. The first year introduces them to the multitude of the world's great works of literature. They sail with Odysseus, fighting the terrors of the ancient seas; wide-eyed, they shiver in the eerie world of Miss Haversham in Great Expectations.

In his powerful tragedy Julius Caesar, Shakespeare reenacts the tempestuous times of the fall of a tyrant for the sophomores. The sad, human story of Silas Marner shows them a different kind of life through the sympathetic eyes of George Eliot.

The juniors learn American history through the works of our best authors. Following our country's growth from the first colonization to modern times, they realize the heritage which is ours.

Delving further into Shakespeare, each line and person in Macbeth is thoroughly analyzed by the seniors. Pope's epigrams are translated into everyday speech, so that the seniors can appreciate the wisdom of the ages that is in them.

"HERE IT IS, the liver," says Judy Musselman as she uses "Herman" for an illustration.

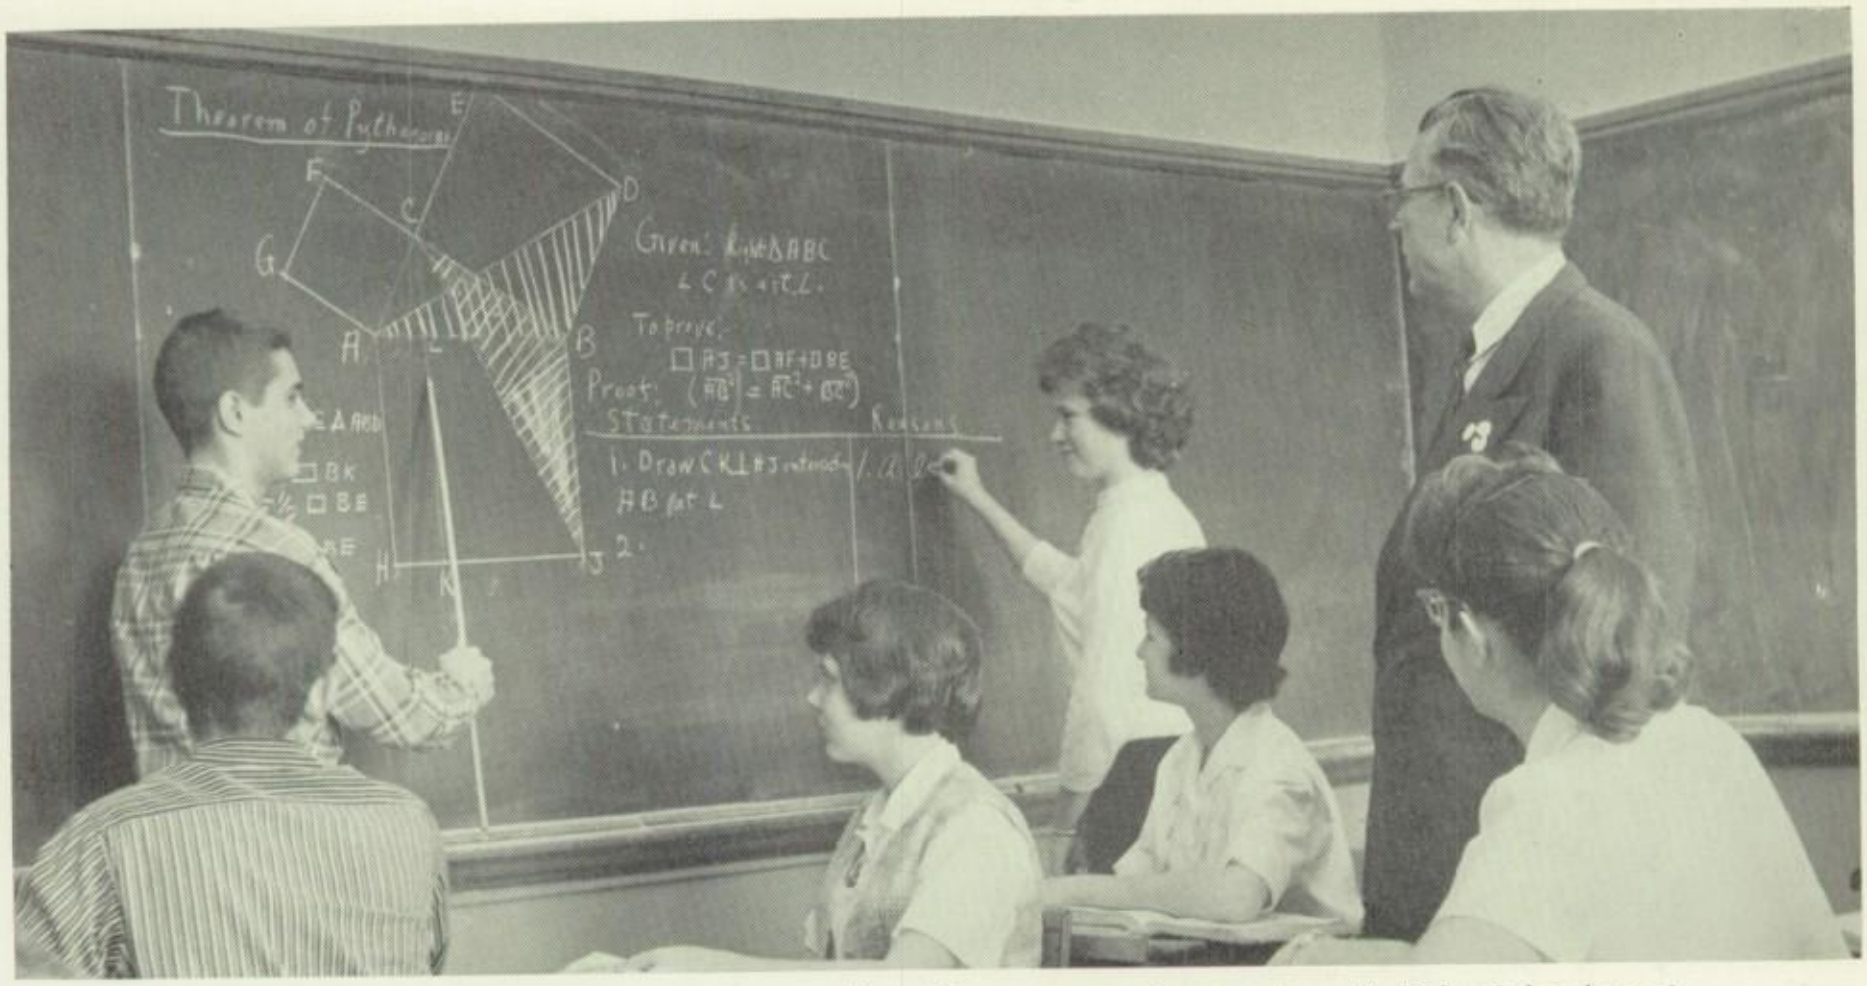
Math and Science Serve as

Life—from the simplest amoeba to the human organism with its nine systems—is a vast subject for biology students. The highpoint of the course comes at the dissection of a frog. Each biologist tries to remove a frog's brain in one piece. To the very few who complete this feat successfully, the teachers award honorary degrees of Doctor of Frogology.

Chemistry introduces students to an exact science. They slave over memorizations and computations of the elements, their valences, formulae, and equations. Then, armed with curiosity and four test tubes apiece, students struggle with titration tubes and balances, advancing through hydrogen generation and the isolation of ions to emerge as confused chemists.

Physics initiates its students to the basic laws of nature. This course teaches how, why, and when metals expand, balls curve, and mirrors reflect. Experimentation stresses the importance of concrete proof as opposed to theory. At the completion of these courses, a student has learned to be observant and careful and is ready for college work.

KATHY TOTH AND David Todd prepare an experimentation on titration.



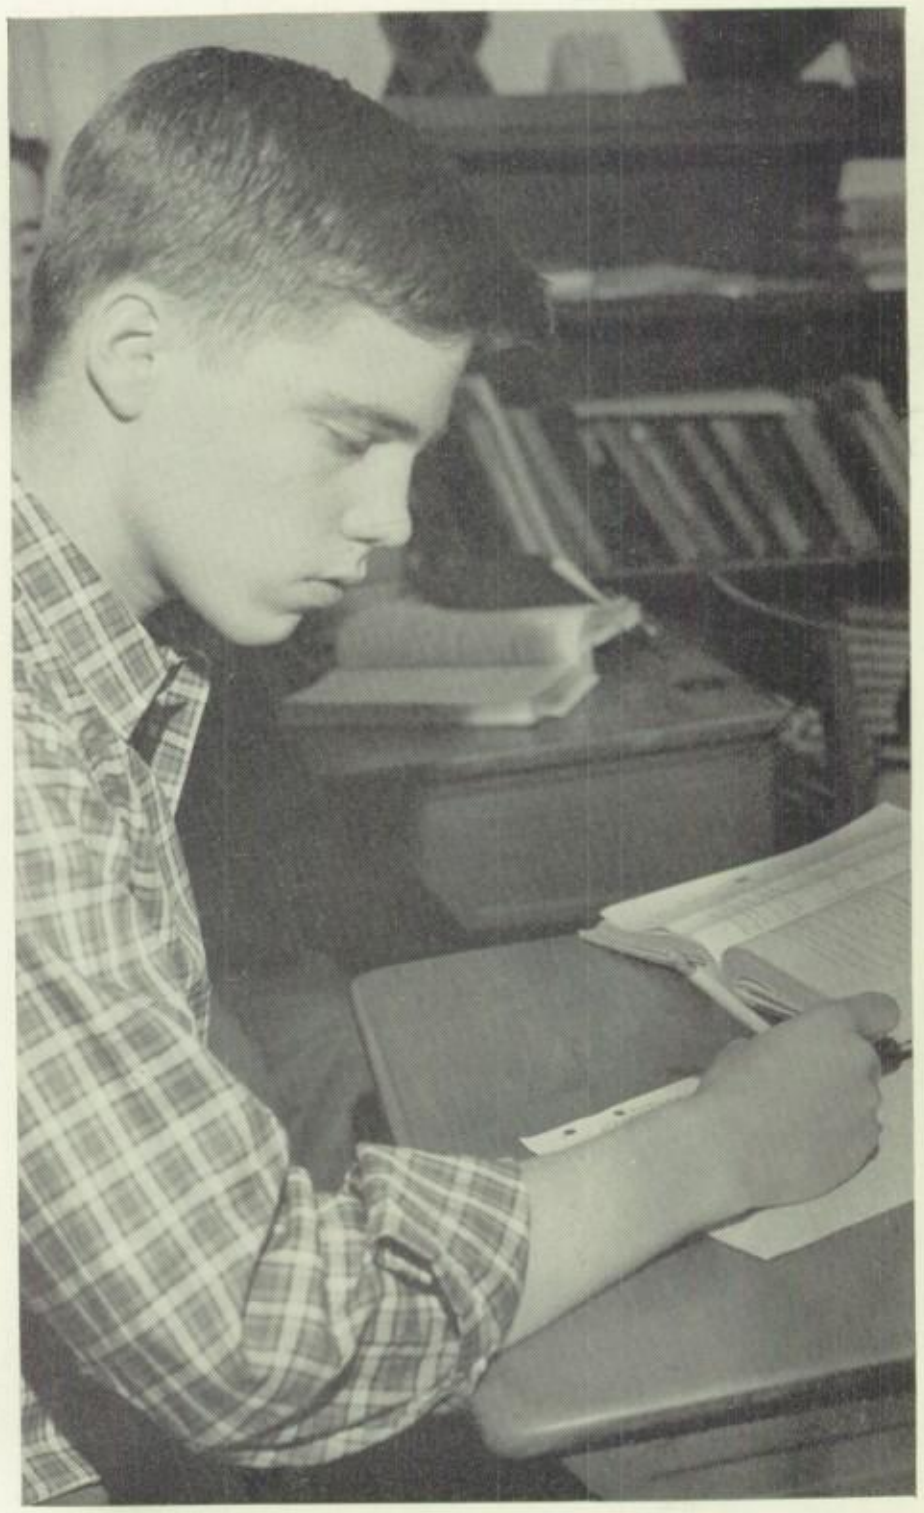
PYTHAGOROUS CAUSES JAN Mueller and Midge Gunther a problem. How can seventy-five steps fit on Mr. Bielema's board space?

Stepping Stones to Progress

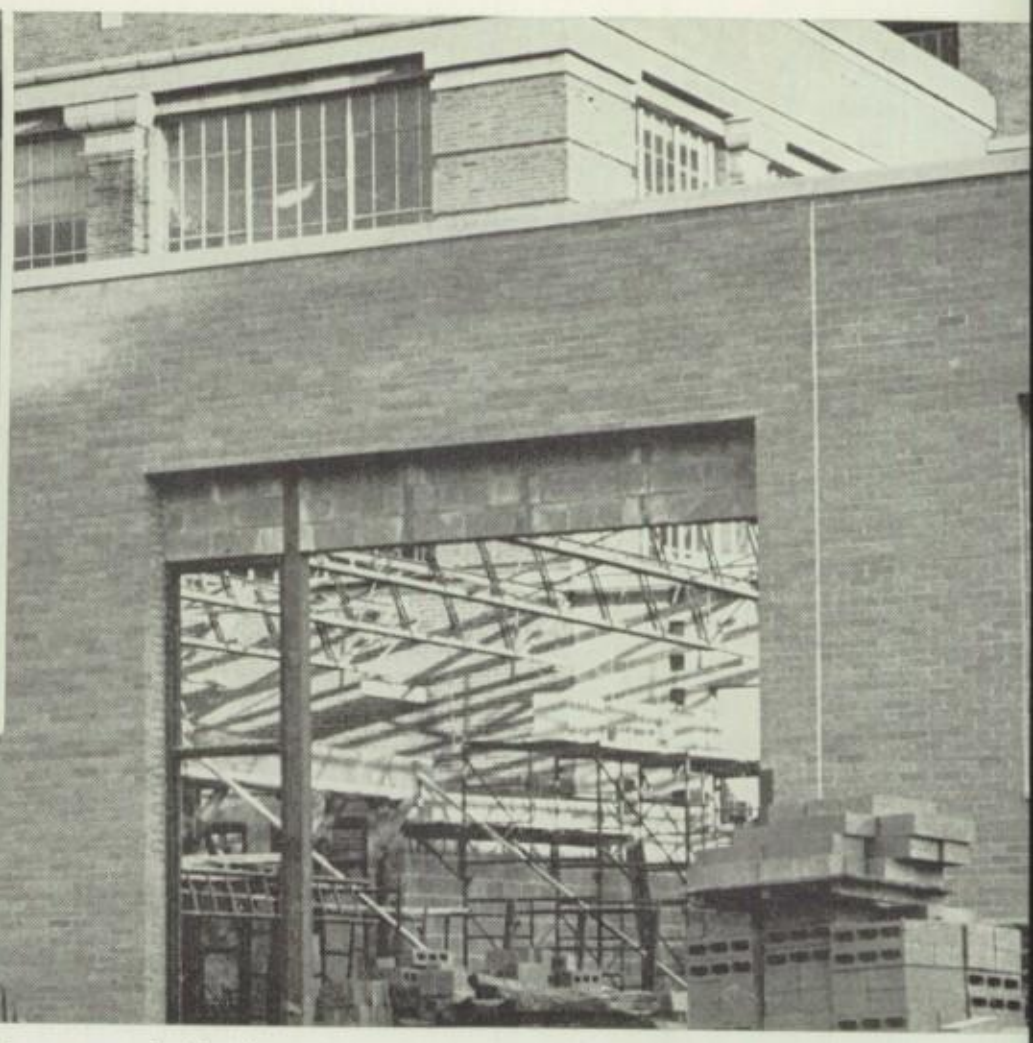
Introduced into the world of mathematics, from the most elementary algebra problem, the student advances to plane geometry, second-year algebra, and finally to trigonometry. Binomials, trinomials, and polynomials puzzle the wondering freshman. In geometry he learns the complexities derived from the theorems proven by men of ages past. Their study is continued with problems of locii and a smattering of trigonometry and solid geometry.

Advancing further, he is made acquainted with the slide rule, logarithms, quadratic equations, and arithmetic and geometric progressions. With the use of logarithms and the slide rule difficult equations are made easier. In trigonometry equations are solved with the application of sines, cosines, and tangents.

For the exceptional student an enriched math program is provided. In this respect he is able to advance according to his abilities and to cover a greater area of knowledge. This prepares him for the rigors of the difficult college math program.



DALE COOPER PONDERS over a graphic solution in the third semester of algebra.



P.H.S. BEGINS TO change its make-up as the new auto-mechanics building is constructed. Mr. Serup is instructing Dave Blanchard, William Carlin, and Bill Seele in basic mechanical principles.

WOODSHOP provides Terry Hoffer with the knowledge necessary to be an expert craftsman.

Vocational Department Aids

Knowing how to cook is an asset to any girl, and at Peoria High School provisions are made for all future homemakers. Food courses teach the planning of well-balanced meals.

Suits, dresses, blouses, and even coats come from the skilled fingers in the sewing classes. Here the girls must master many different types of seams and stitches before they can complete the course. With the techniques they learn to make their own clothing for school, sports events, and special occasions.

Huddled over an engine, the boys discuss the intricate systems and parts of an automobile. With the completion of the new auto mechanics building, they now have the opportunity for greater advancements in this field. Due to the added space, each boy is able to observe the work of the latest model machines. With concentrated patience, skill and adeptness are developed in a difficult field. The intricacies of machine construction makes their job particularly engrossing.

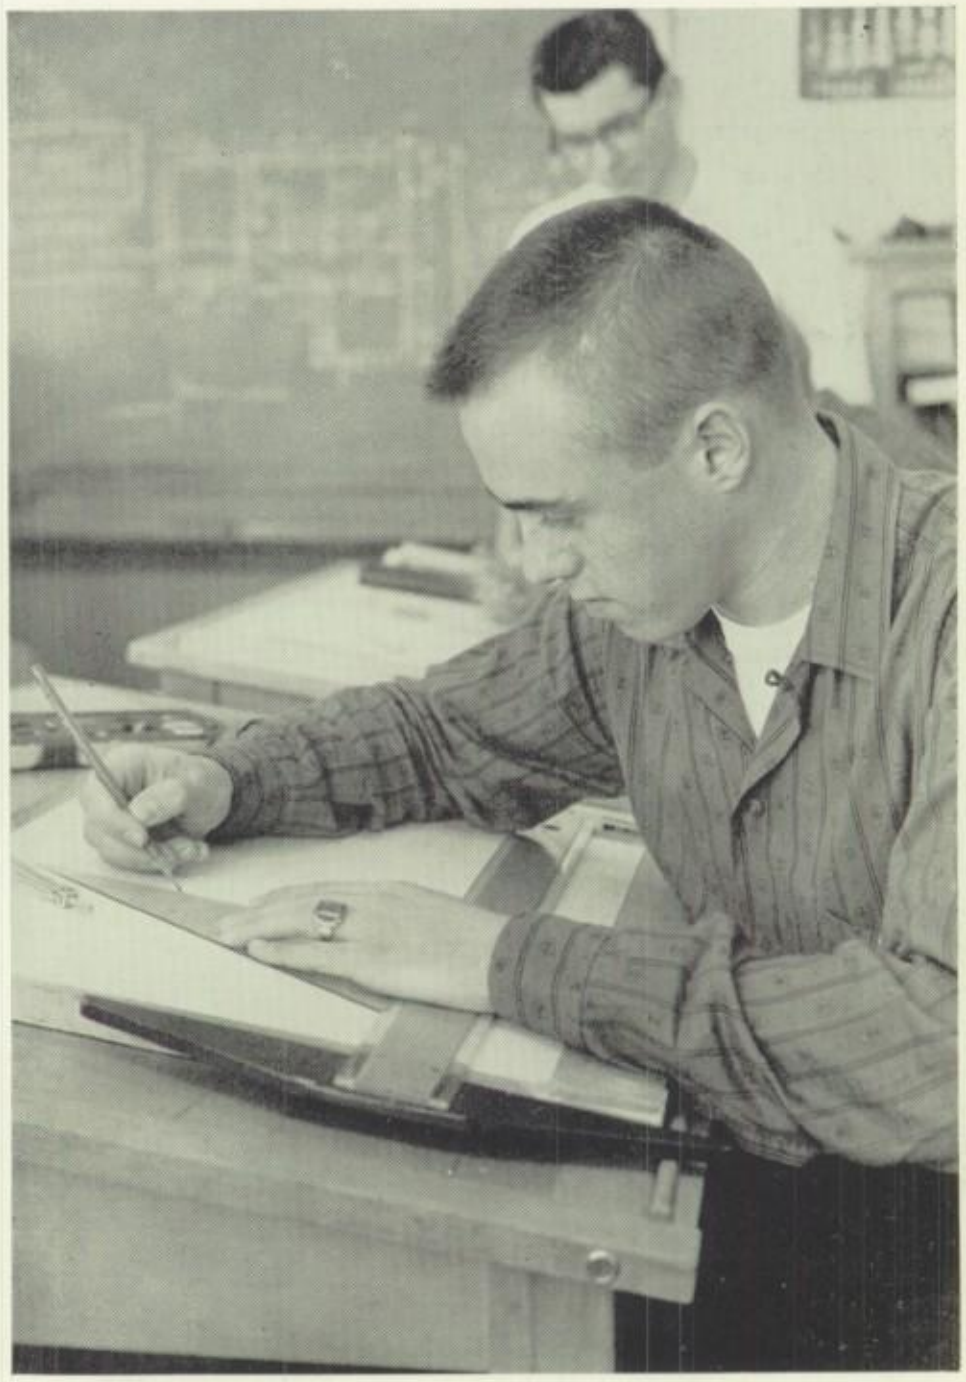
IN TYPING CLASS skill and coordination are developed. Mr. Wyeth gives a timing test to aid these students in being faster typists.

in the Development of Skills

With capable guidance the boys in woodshop develop skills in carpentry and general building ability. During the course of the year they make tables and lamp bases which can later be wired in the electricity shops.

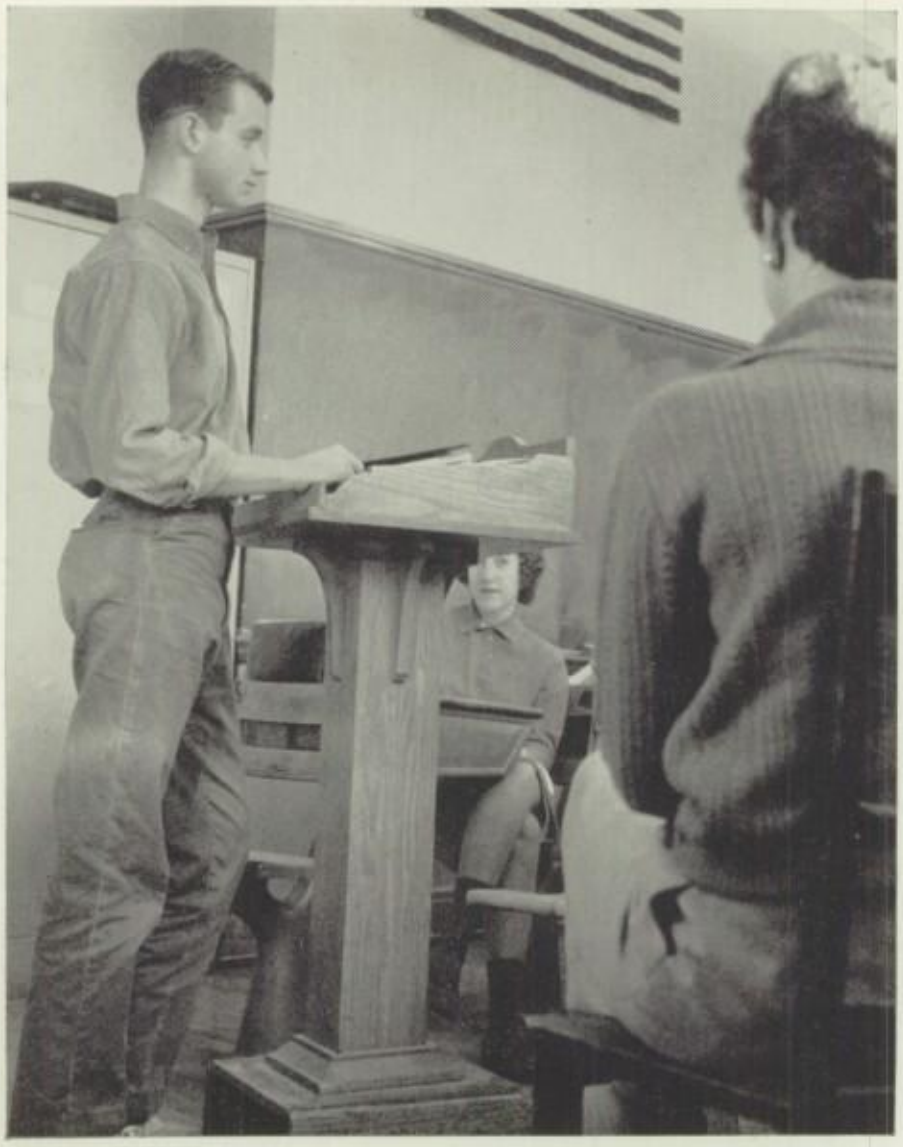
Mechanical drawing provides students with a knowledge of blueprinting and an introduction to architecture. The student learns to use a T square, special compass, triangles, and arcs. With these he plots the measurements of house and building plans.

In the typing classes each pupil demonstrates his ability as an efficient worker. They become skilled in composing budgets and business letters. Shorthand students, after learning the fundamentals of abbreviation, progress rapidly into future secretaries. With a thorough knowledge of the shorthand alphabet and numerous brief forms, one is able to take dictation quickly and accurately. The students of bookkeeping learn an orderly system of filing and accounting.



KENNY MILASHOSKI, armed with pencil, T square, drawing board, and paper, makes a scale drawing of a difficult blueprint.

Foreign Language and Fine



PHIL HESTER LEADS a discussion in Mrs. Webster's Sociology class. This is a valuable course in learning about people and their problems.

Many of the arts provide the satisfaction of accomplishment. Sociology, the study of man and his habits, takes us into the development of psychiatry and patterns of physical behavior. During the year the students take trips to Joliet and Bartonville to observe the maladjusted.

When a student tires of mere book-learning and desires something more than memorization of dates and figures, he can find many cultural opportunities at P.H.S. One of these is the choral department. A Cappella performs at many assemblies and programs. Girls' Choir drills until each note is perfect. The Light Opera Singers entertain at many club meetings with selections from Broadway shows.

Instrumentalists may perform in either band or orchestra. The band bolsters school spirit at games and assemblies. The orchestra, along with the Girls' Choir, gave a very different Christmas concert that combined vocal and instrumental numbers.

GIRLS' CHOIR AND Orchestra blend with delightful harmony to entertain us at one of our assemblies.

Arts Determine Ability

The art students' work on charcoal and ink sketches introduces them to the world's of proportion, shading, and perspective. From these they may advance through water colors to oil paintings. Some students record their impressions in mosaics of chopped glass and multi-design mobiles.

As in most languages, the first and second year are dedicated to the study of grammar and vocabulary. With a background of these two years, the student learns the rudiments of the language. Third puts aside these exercises in order to devote their time to the country's literature. The French students accomplish this by using translation sheets about the major writings of France. The Spanish pupils read two novels, La Nele and El Sombrero de Tres Picos. Cicero comes alive in the minds of the Latin students, while the third year German classes study the "Monastpost."

PALETTE AND paint brush plus the artistic ability of aid in being able to express colorful ideas on canvas.

Honors Day Pays Tribute to Outstanding Students

There are many opportunities for recognition, not only by our own classmates but also by the outside world. Outstanding leadership in knowledge and citizenship has been shown by several of our upperclassmen. There were three firsts awarded this year in the field of science and history. A Peoria High student was the Illinois Bell Telephone Company's choice of outstanding science student in the Peoria area. This year we had the first down-state winner in the United Nations testing program. There were three recipients of the James McCormick History Award. The brilliancy and leadership of Central students was acknowledged by the presentation of other awards.

The Photogenic Queen is a recent addition to the CREST. The winning picture is chosen from fifteen senior girls which are sent to a well-known star. This year Bing Crosby chose as the Photogenic Queen of the 1961 CREST, Georgianna Anderson. Without Mr. Crosby's wonderful cooperation none of this would have been possible.

This year Georgianna was a member of the Coquettes, a member of the Senior Service Club, and a page for one of the counselors.

ORGANIZATIONS

Barbara Gilkerson
President of Student Council

Barbara Gilkerson has had one goal since her freshman year—to be President of Student Council. In her climb to council's top position, she gained experience in three previous terms, serving last year as corresponding secretary and as head of the supply booth.

Now that she has reached her objective, Barb has led council with firmness and imagination. Her meetings, usually business-like, have also been spiked with her humor. Under her, the Student Council has given a full year of service—to the students, to A.F.S., to the needy. Barb has united Council and the students it represents.

Vice-President

OFFICERS OF COUNCIL include: Treasurer, Cathie McConnell; Corresponding Secretary, Linda Thompson; Secretary, Bev Larence.

Student Council Governs

The most important organization in the school is Student Council. Elected by their classmates, its members devote fourth hour every day to Council work, having their business meetings on Tuesdays. Under the supervision of Mr. Harry Whitaker, Council has tried hard this year to make Central go. When school spirit sagged, Council members introduced boy cheerleaders to inject both rooters and players with new enthusiasm. At Homecoming they planned for the dance, stunt shows, and the election of queens. At Christmas they organized a special assembly and took baskets of food to the needy.

Council also caters to the needs of each student. Carrying paper and writing supplies, sweatshirts, and those very helpful books on writing research papers, the Student Council supply booth is crowded every day.

Committee of 40 Plans Activities

Year after year the Committee of 40 has promoted an active social life at Central. From the freshman mixer in the fall to the "Carnival Capers" in the spring at the end of school, the Committee members worked hard to stimulate the interest of the students.

Under the supervision of Mr. Lev Wallace, the Committee has bolstered the school spirit at Central by putting up posters and selling pep cards for the students to wear. Each week the members spend some of their free time working in the Rec. The Committee of 40 has presented the Thanksgiving Dance, Nebish Nonsense, and the variety show. The vareity show raised some much needed funds for the athletic organizations of the school.

MARY MILES conducts a meeting in the Committee of 40 room.

The 1960 CREST was an All-American yearbook, one of the top few in the nation. This year we have tried to make it even better through a new organization set-up. Instead of an editor-in-chief, assistant editor, and section editors, there are an editor-in-chief, a layout editor, with the section editors under her, the copy editor and the photography editor. It is the goal of the CREST staff to present the school with an interesting and memorable yearbook, describing and illustrating the highlights of the past year. We sincerely hope that this year's book will prove to be in keeping with your expectations.

Dear Phyllis,
I hope to see a lot of you this summer. Best of luck in the future to a darling girl.

CREST Photographers

Mixing chemicals, ordering photographic supplies, and developing and printing pictures are all a part of the photographer's job. Hundreds of pictures are taken each year for the CREST; the photographers must be sure of the high quality of each one. On the move the entire year, they take the pictures needed to fulfill most important requirements for an All-American yearbook. These pictures must be set-up and balanced; they must be taken too fit the layouts; the lighting must be just right and the final proof must look natural. With all this to cope with, the job of the photographer is never ending.

Established in 1890, the Opinion has given Peoria High School seventy-one years of excellent news feature reporting. During this time, the Opinion was first printed in the Black Hole under the boiler room. Then they set the type there but sent forms to the Journal Transcript for printing. Now all copy is taken to shops for complete processing. This bi-weekly newspaper has always been one of the best in the country. In this year alone it has garnered such awards as: first class rating from the National Press Association; Medalist from Columbia Scholastic Press Association; and the first vice-presidency of the Illinois State High School Press Association. In addition, two pictures taken by Bob Jamieson and used in the Opinion were carried over U.P.I. wire service and appeared in numerous metropolitan dailies.

Julie Heiple, Editor-in-Chief, and her advisor, Mrs. Chamnes, have about 40 students writing news, features, and sports stories for the paper. Included among their articles have been such stand-outs as personal interviews with Mrs. Pat Nixon, President Kennedy, and Doctor Earl F. English, a former advisor for the Opinion, and also with Lynda Bird Johnson.

The Business Staff, headed by Diane Gates and supervised by Mr. Wyeth, has also worked hard to make such an excellent newspaper as the Opinion available to Central.

Two Valedictorians Lead the Class of '61

The ultimate goal of a high school student is attained with admittance to the "Top Ten." Perfection is not easy to accomplish, but Peoria High School's two Valedictorians have reached it. Each has a perfect four point rating, which is equal to a straight "A" average. Only through hard work and special enthusiasm have the "Top Ten" assumed their places. The CREST wishes to confer sincerest congratulations and best wishes to them.

Senior National Honor Society

Membership in the Senior National Honor Society is a distinction for any senior. Selection for this group is based upon a student's display of scholarship, leadership, service, and character. In recognition of such an accomplishment, new members are presented with their cards before an assemblage of the entire school. Members also receive a certain bonus—they are eligible for certain scholarships not available to other students.

Junior National Honor Society

With the lighting of four candles, white for character, gold for scholarship, green for leadership, and blue for service, new members are initiated into Junior National Honor Society. Chosen from the upper ten percent of the Sophomore class, these students have spent many hours doing homework to achieve their positions. While leadership qualities are considered, scholastic standing forms the principle for selection.

Quill and Scroll

Peoria High's amateur actors who have given performances that were well done for amateurs were awarded membership in the Dramatic Honor Society. Selecting on the basis of characterization, voice, body action, stage presence, and cooperation, three impartial judges of the community rate the performance of the students in major dramatic productions. Last spring they chose new members from Jusendra's one-act plays, and this fall five students were selected from the cast of Cheaper by the Dozen. Miss Lamberton is faculty advisor.

Dramatic Honor Society

Each year certain members of the CREST and Opinion are picked for membership in Quill and Scroll. The amateur journalists selected have maintained high grade averages and done the most and hardest work. They have contributed to the excellence of their publications. Taking an oath in a special assembly, the new members received torch-shaped pins. In addition, they were each awarded a year's subscription to the high school journalists' magazine, Quill and Scroll.

Senior Service Devotes Time to School and Civic Affairs

Senior girls who wish to be of service not only to their school, but to their community as well, may join the Senior Service Club. Under the guidance of Miss Poschard, these girls work many hours during the year to help their fellow-man. At Christmas time they participated in the Toys for Tots drive, collecting toys at school and helping to distribute them to underprivileged children at Neighborhood House. In the spring months the Senior Service girls launched a school-wide drive to collect white sheets, pillow-cases, and towels for cancer dressings. The girls also donated time to helping at the T.B. center.

Here at Peoria High School, Senior Service Club has been active. Assisting the P.T.A., they sold Central decals and Family Fun Fair tickets. Helping other student organizations, they ushered for different programs.

Key Club Serves the Community and School

The goal of the Key Club, a boys' service club at Peoria High, is to help our school and the community.

Every year a group of Key Clubbers volunteers to ring the Salvation Army bell on corners during the Christmas vacation.

They also helped with the "Toys for Tots" project at the Neighborhood House.

The Key Club expertly handled the football and basketball programs again this year. When the halls seem dull and dusty with all the tarnished trophies in their cases, Key Club holds its annual trophy shine. The boys shine the trophies until they reflect their former glory.

As a money raising project this year for their own benefit, the Key Clubbers sold attractive plastic book covers.

All this seems like a lot of work, but the Key Club members have their time for fun also. They have the privilege of attending a Kiwanis Club luncheon several times a year, and the fun of presenting pep assemblies and of having their annual spring picnic.

Lettermen's Club Serves at School Functions

Another of the many service organizations at Peoria High, the Lettermen's Club has become very active in the two years since its organization. Ushering, guarding the doors during pep assemblies, and checking coats at the Athletic Banquet are a few of the tasks performed by its members. The boys also help to set up the booths for the Family Fun Fair.

Meeting once a month under the supervision of Mr. Dick Whitaker, Lettermen's Club is headed by Bob Hunter.

To be eligible for membership, a boy must earn a versity letter in one of Central's many sports.

Pages and Office Assistants Aid Counselors

Without the efficient help of the pages and office assistants, Peoria High counselors and clerks would never finish all of their work in one day. How difficult it would be if a counselor had to go to a student's class and get him each time he wished to discuss the student's courses. However, he doesn't have to; pages perform this service. They also help out by filling in program cards, helping to arrange class schedules, and doing routine typing. Office assistants carry messages to and from classes, answer the telephone, operate the switchboard, and call absentees. These jobs, far from menial, are a very important part of a well-run office. The sophomore, junior, and senior girls who devote an hour's study hall each day to assist as pages, perform an invaluable service for the school.

Art Guild Sparks Interest in a New Field

The artists at Central have formed the Art Guild. This organization gives members a chance to broaden their knowledge of the field of art. The Guild members studied furniture design at the Cohen Furniture Company, and made several trips to churches in the city in order to study architecture. Mr. Suffield, Peoria High art teacher, sponsors the Guild.

Latin club meetings begin with the members rising to sing "America" in Latin. From then on anything may happen. Once a pair of American students found themselves at a debate between two campaigning Romans. Noting the many similarities between Roman and American campaigns, they reported on what they heard and saw.

In February, the month of great men, Latin Club held a patriotic meeting, comparing the political careers and achievements of Abraham Lincoln and George Washington with those of great Romans.

Students also play Latin games such as charades and word relays. At the close of each meeting, the members rise and say in unison, "Valete Amici," or "Good-bye, friends."

Spanish Club Brings Spain to P.H.S.

There is more to the study of a foreign language than the language itself. The country where it is spoken, its people, and their customs should also be a part of the students' knowledge. Spanish Club, under the supervision of Miss Stepaitis, tries to fill these needs. It has brought an understanding of the mannerisms and culture of the Spanish-speaking people that is not always found in the classroom.

The club provides a wealth of learning and enjoyment at its meetings through skits, movies, speakers, and songs. For example, a Christmas party is held each year where everyone participates in games, sings songs, and enjoys the provided refreshments. A Spanish atmosphere is added to the meetings as most of the business is conducted in Spanish.

French Club Learns About Literature of France

"Bonjour mes amis!" began each French Club meeting led by president Cathie McConnell.

This year French Club had several meetings during which slides of the French countryside, French monuments, and the French people were shown and the French customs were discussed. Observing and talking about France, French students came to know the people whose language they were learning.

This year French Club had a new advisor, Mr. Neff. Mr. Neff came to Central this year from Woodruff to teach French.

"Au revoir pour maintenant!" or "Goodbye for now!" ends each meeting. French Club enlivens the study of French for its students.

This year's monthly German Club meetings had various cultural and educational themes. They included the showing of pictures, movies, and slides of Germany itself. Visiting A.F.S. foreign exchange student Hans Kaestner contributed valuable information to the club by giving first-hand information of "Deutschland." German "Lieder" are sung by the members, acquainting them with the great composers of German culture.

The highlights of the club year are the Christmas party and the spring picnic. The Christmas party was held at the Rec; it was a well planned program of singing, entertainment, exchange of gifts, and other festivities originating from Germany. This year's officers were: President Bob Bovenschulte, Vice-President Craig Thiersh, Secretary Kay Ringel, and Treasurer Tom Newell.

German Club Singers

Started in 1957 by members of the German Club and sponsored by Miss Ziegler, the German Singers are an important part of each German Club meeting. They perform in school assemblies and for luncheon clubs, such as the Steuben Club and the Cosmopolitan Club.

Participating in the centennial of the Concordia Singing Society in 1958, they were the only high school group among choral groups from our and neighboring states.

Ticket Committee

The fast-working money changers of the Ticket Committee, directed by Mr. Stepping, are always busy during the lunch hours. Selling tickets to every game or play at Central, the committee is always in demand. In the busiest times they are selling tickets to more than one occasion.

DISCUSSING THE PRICE of tickets are F. Janovetz, M. Jordan, Mr. Stepping, N. Abernathy, C. Evans, and C. Judkins.

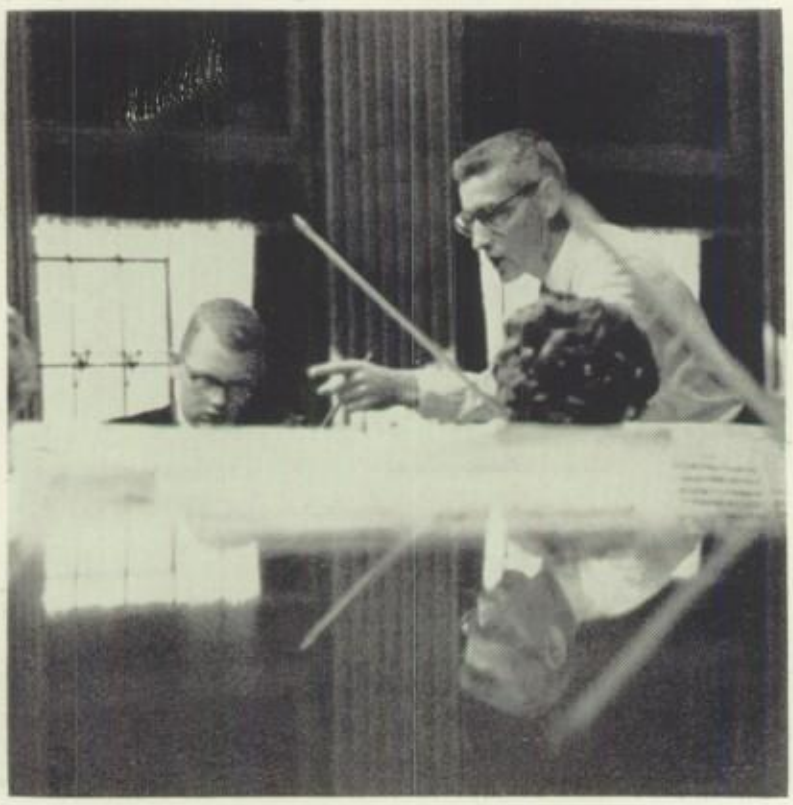
Orchestra Encourages Musical Talent



MR. SZEPESSY POINTS out the way it's done to Chuck Teeter.

Mr. J. E. Szepessy directs the Peoria High School Orchestra, a talented group of about fifty students. These musicians play pieces from Bach, Mozart, Strauss, and other composers, as well as more modern ones. Playing at special assemblies and visiting universities, they are stimulated to further their musical education. Each year several members have the honor of playing in the All-State Orchestra.

Meeting first hour of every day, the orchestra members work to perfect their playing. They learn to appreciate and understand high quality music. Developing a sense of harmony and unity, the young musicians become a well organized orchestra.

Band Provides Music for Our Games

Under the direction of Mr. Herbert Stoskopf, the Peoria High School Band performed at pep assemblies, football games, and parades. The fifty-six members also sold candy and light bulbs to help cover extra expenses and to pay for the uniforms that they received two years ago. In April the band went to Chicago to see a concert and a musical play. Several soloists of the band competed in district and state competition. The Peoria High School Band, which is active all year, made about forty public appearances this year. According to Mr. Stoskopf, the band serves to acquaint the members with good music, teaching them cooperation.

Coquettes Kick It Up

The Coquettes, under the guidance of Mrs. Judy Stoskopf, contributed to school spirit throughout the year. Marching out on the football field, radiant in their red and white costumes, the girls danced to polkas and cha-cha music. Of the three groups, the first carried poles bearing colored flags. The second group followed waving shake-aroos representing different school colors. The third finished the routine with red, white, and blue flags.

In addition to their performances at games, the girls represented Peoria High by marching in precision drill teams at the United Fund and Christmas parades. Some of them have danced at pep assemblies. At the Turkey Day game Jill Wilkie did a solo dance routine for the crowd at half-time.

A Cappella Choir Is the Highest Goal in Music

When a student at P.H.S. can say that he is a member of A Cappella Choir, he has reached the most honored place in the music department. The members of this group are chosen and directed by Mrs. Dorothy Linder. She picks only those who have musical ability, and who have had previous experience in other Central choral groups.

A Cappella Choir sings for many special programs. This year they took part in the dramatization of A Christmas Carol and in Thunder on the River, the outdoor epic play of Peoria's history. In a talent exchange, they gave an assembly at Spalding, and this year, as always, they sang for Christmas Vespers.

Girls' Choir

The Girls' Choir, a group of junior and senior girls, prepares its members for the A Cappella Choir. The members of the choir must have had experience in freshman and sophomore choral classes.

They sang in our Christmas assembly and in other special assemblies throughout the year. The girls have sung at other schools in the Peoria area.

Mixed Chorus

One of the newer singing groups of Peoria High, the mixed chorus is made up of sophomore boys and girls. They sing at various school functions under the supervision of Mrs. Dorothy Linder.

With such a wide range in voices they are able to do many different kinds of songs. In this way they receive good musical training for future participation in other Central choirs.

Light Opera

An ensemble of sixteen girls, the Light Opera Singers perform often for church, school, and civic groups. Their programs consist mostly of numbers from musical comedies such as Music Man, My Fair Lady, and Brigadoon. Charming in their pink and rose dresses, the girls enjoy singing as much as their audiences do listening. They have all been selected by Mrs. Linder for their ability to blend, harmonize, and sparkle during the performances.

Girls' Glee Club

"Sing, girls, sing!" says Mrs. Linder, the director of the Girls' Glee Club as the group bursts into three-part harmony. Any girl may join, and those who elect this course meet five days a week to learn all kinds of music. Singing mostly for their own enjoyment, they also perform every year in the Christmas Vespers and for the Spring Concert. Glee Club gives experience which will be valuable to those who go on to A Cappella.

Those Interested in Music Belong to Music Workshop

Only a love of music is required for membership in Music Workshop. Many of the students belonging to this club sing in Peoria High choirs; many of them do not. All enjoy their monthly meetings of songs, stories, and punch and cookies served during the meetings. Different choral groups from Central and other schools entertain them throughout the year. New talent may make its debut at Music workshop.

Jusendra, created for students who love the theater, is open to all juniors and seniors. Not only experiencing the joys and fears of appearing before an audience, members also learn stage technicalities, the behind-the-scene jobs of make-up, sound, and lighting. During regular meetings they entertain each other with readings and monologues. The presentation of Shooting High climaxed the year's work. To give the polished performances that they did, these amateur actors had to suffer through the agonies of trying out, work long hours in rehearsing, and stand the gnawing anticipation before the curtain went up. Acting, they learned, takes large measures of courage, energy, patience, broad-mindedness, and feeling.

Debaters Gain Confidence in Speaking

The debate team, under the supervision of Mrs. Johnson, argues the topic: "Resolved, that the United Nations should be significantly strengthened." The members of the team try to achieve good poise in talking and logical reasoning. Most of the members plan to be lawyers or public speakers. This year the team debated at La Grange, Normal, East Peoria, Augustana, Bradley University, Manual, and Richwoods.

GIVING A FEW POINTERS to the cast of the play is Larry Propp.

Cue Club Arouses Interest in the Dramatic Field

Absent for one year, Cue Club has returned to Peoria High School. This drama organization for underclassmen has as its sponsors Miss Johnson and Mrs. Johnson. Its members entertain each other at meetings with one-act plays, monologues, readings, pantomines, or original skits. In this way they learn about the theater, prepare for future membership and participation in Jusendra, and have a great deal of fun while achieving their aims.

Junior Red Cross Helps the Community

The Junior Red Cross helps the poor and ill through volunteer work. Their time is given freely to the projects that they have planned. The members, a regular representative and an alternate from each homeroom, attend two meetings each month to plan these activities and to learn methods presented to them by the National Red Cross. Each year they collect money to support the numerous functions of the club and send a member of the Junior Red Cross to the summer Red Cross Camp. Their service is to the school and also to the needy families in the surrounding area.

Future Nurses

The members of Future Nurses Club desire to enter nursing. Each member acquaints herself with the different fields of nursing, learning its fundamentals through visits to the local hospitals. These trips are both instructive and entertaining; the participants gain practical knowledge of what goes on in the hospitals.

Films, speeches, and discussions about their future vocation make up their monthly meetings which are supervised by Miss Jacks.

Pre-Med Club

The Pre-Med Club encourages those who hope to become doctors and medical technicians to keep up with some of the more remarkable discoveries in medicine. Discussing part of the time, they listen to talks by doctors. They receive much valuable advice from the club advisor, Miss Kinhofer, and pointers as to the training and available jobs from the visiting doctors.

Future Teachers Gain Experience in the Classroom

Future Teachers Club is a chapter of the National Association of Future Teachers of America. Miss Albright, the leader of this group of students who hope to follow teaching as a profession, tries to instill in them a true love for children. Held about once a month, their meetings are made exceedingly interesting by speakers who are prominent leaders in the field of education. The members of the organization discuss basic fundamentals of teaching.

During the year they have participated in many worthwhile projects such as: the Christmas party they gave for underprivileged children.

"I'LL HUFF, AND I'LL PUFF, and I'll blow your house down," reads Peggy Guilick to a class at Irving school.

Library Club

Whenever you need information for a history report, modern essay for English, or just a book for pleasureable reading, you probably go to Peoria High School's library. There the members of the Library Club wait to help you. Stamping and filing books, these students devote at least one hour of service a week. With Mrs. Bell and Mr. Stanger as their teachers, they learn a great deal about library science.

The Co-op Club is an organization supervised by Mrs. Pocklington, enables future secretaries to learn office procedure during the afternoon while they are still taking school course in the morning. The members attend school the first three hours in the morning, and work in an office the rest of the day. The club is made up of students from Peoria High School and Manual.

Chess Club

Chess—a mystery to people who only hear its name mentioned by thoughtful, serious young men—is an every day occurrence to the members of Chess Club. They slide around pawns, queens, and bishops with grave concern, trapping their opponents, and laughing over victory. In short, they enjoy chess.

Mr. Stepping, their advisor, organizes tournaments for them to show off their skill. These tournaments consist of one round of play in the Swiss Ladder Tournament.

Science Club

Science Club has meetings every Monday night. These meetings are rarely dangerous, but there is a certain amount of experimenting going on all the time. The members meet to discuss current events and to watch movies on scientific subject matter. They debate on controversial topics and listen to speakers who are well-versed on particular subjects. The club is under the supervision of Mr. Horst, who is the physics teacher.

Projection Crew

Visual aids are recognized as good practice in teaching. When a teacher decides to use a film or slides to illustrate some point, he usually calls on a member of the Projection Crew to show them for him. Because of this, these boys are on call at any time.

Being a projectionist requires skill, for the boys must be adept at handling all kinds of equipment—slide projectors, cinemascope lenses, and sound and silent projectors.

Under the supervision of Mr. Bauder, the members hold meetings only when the occasion arises. Although there are only boys in the club now, any Peoria High student may join the Projection Crew.

Stage Crew

The stage crew, under the direction of Mr. Lurie, is responsible for management of the stage during assemblies, pep rallies, stunt shows, plays, and other school activities. The crew is composed of boys who are interested in the "behind the scenes" work that goes on during activities. The fellows must donate their own time to this work, but they gain a lot of useful experience in learning to operate the curtains, lights, and other backstage equipment. Theirs is an unrewarding job, but also a very necessary part of any smoothly running performance.

Gridders Place Second in

Through the excellent guidance and hard work of Coach Robertson and his assistant, Mr. Whitaker, the Lions had a successful grid season. The first game proved to be an uphill fight for the Central squad as they lost a close game to Maine West at Chicago. The final score was 21-19. The second game was the beginning of a long winning streak for the Lions as they trampled over the Limestone Rockets 39-0. The following week Woodruff present the first stiff local competition. With a hard driving offense, Central finally outscored the Warriors by 34-20. Having two consecutive wins behind them, the Lions saw an obstacle in the Spalding Irish. Both teams played brilliant football with alert defenses, but Central reigned victorious at the Homecoming game by downing Spalding 7-0.

The next week Central traveled to Decatur to play Eisenhower. The game was mostly defense, and with several smart offensive calls, the Lions gained their fourth straight win 7-0.

One of the big games of the season came on the following Friday with Richwoods. Central hadn't beaten the Knights for three years, but this was the year for the Lions. With a lightning offense and a sure-footed defense, Central ripped the Richwoods squad apart with a decisive margin of 41-0.

Mid-State Eight Competition

Another arch-rival Pekin was Central's next foe. The Lions had another successful night by making the Chinks their sixth victim, 33-13. The East Peoria Raiders were next to fall under the powerful blow of the Centralites, as the Lions gained their seventh win of the year 27-0.

Central played host to a very strong visiting Kewanee team the following week. The game was a rugged test of Central's strength, but again they came through, defeating Kewanee 25-14.

With Central's eight and one record, undefeated Manual made the Thanksgiving Day game our most important one, for the City Title and the Mid-State Eight Championship were to be determined. Both teams were well prepared for the game, but in the end the Rams proved to be more powerful as they overthrew the Lions, 34-6.

Cheerleaders Inspire School Spirit

The cheerleaders provide an indispensable spark at pep assemblies and athletic events. Lifting school spirit and bolstering the team, they are an important part of our school.

Just as the boys out for sports, the girls have strenuous practice, going over old yells and learning new ones. Miss Spickard directs the cheers, which often involve intricate maneuvers and arm and leg movements.

Each year there are a few days when hopeful girls try out for the cheerleading squad. Miss Spickard and the senior cheerleaders try to pick the best girls from the group. An important source of cheerleaders is the junior-varsity cheerleaders who cheer at sophomore football and basketball games.

Central Ends the Season

As this was the first season for Harry Whitaker as head basketball coach at P.H.S., the Lions had a greater problem than usual in meeting the stiff competition of the Mid-State Eight Conference. Gaining confidence, the team rallied in the second half of the season to win most of their games. They advanced to the regional in the state tournament before being eliminated by powerful Manual. Fighting their way to victory, they compiled a thirteen wins and twelve losses record.

This year's sophomore basketball season ended with a good record. Harry Whitaker, who moved up to varsity coach this year, was replaced by Dick Whitaker in the sophomore driver's seat. Two of the outstanding sophs, Craig Alexander and Jim Wheeler, played regularly on the varsity squad. Practice and more practice turned the squad into an organized and winning team.

Good Year for Freshman Basketball Team

The freshman basketball team had an exceptionally good season. They finished with a record of 17 wins and 3 losses. Mr. Boyle, their coach, has proven his high ability in his first year of coaching at Peoria High School. The able freshman team has learned the fundamentals of basketball, so that next year they should have a successful sophomore season.

Central's diamondmen swung their way through the baseball season last year. With Bill Coker's tough pitching and Mike Cook's hard hitting, the Lions finished with eigh twins and seven losses. The team lost close games to Manual, Galesburg, Limestone, East Peoria, Canton, and Pekin.

Coach Harry Whitaker, in his fourth year of piloting the team, thought that the baseball season should be just as successful this spring. Most of the lettermen returned.

DEMONSTRATING excellent batting form, Bob Bovenschulte drives the ball to the outfield.

The Baseball Team Uses Pitching Power

Hard work and long practice are but two of the many qualities of the 1960 baseball team at P.H.S., which turned the season into a success. Working on both fundamentals and details of each phase of the game, the Lions prepared themselves for each game on their pressing Mid-State Eight conference schedule. The ability to hit the long ball, sound pitching, fast fielding and good running enabled the ball club, to compile several impressive victories. The 17-2 win over Woodruff and the 9-0 victory over Limestone showed the hitting power of the team.

Most of the better hurlers of the pitching staff are returning for action in 1961 along with much of the infield and a good crop of outfielders. With new talent coming from the sophomore squad to back up the returning lettermen, Coach Whitaker is looking forward to a very profitable season next year and expects to finish high in the standing of the league.

Swimmers Show Fighting Spirit

The 1960-61 Central Swimming Team improved as the year progressed. Consistently cutting seconds off their time, the swimmers ended their season stronger than they were at the first. The highest triumph of the year came fhen the Peoria High team beat Pekin 54-32.

This year Swen Wallin replaced Joseph Yuhause who coached Central from 1944-1960. Senior Tom Newell and Dave McMaster were the co-captains who led the team to victory. Other senior swimmers were Jim Dischert, Todd Schmidt, and Gary Barker in freestyle; Jack Russell and Don Thompson in backstroke; and Bob Thomson in freestyle and diving. Juniors Dave Peterson and Mike McCord were elected co-captains for next year. Other varsity members were junior Jim Deatherage, sophomores Til Kreiling and Bruce Ballentyne, and freshman Scott Wellbrock. All of the home meets were swum in the Peoria Y.M.C.A. pool.

Matmen Have Tough Opponents

Central's matmen, with the help of their new coach, Mr. Zimmerman, learned new holds and maneuvers to meet the tough competition in this area. Averaging two meets a week, the grapplers had their home contests in the girls' gym. Jim Roe, Central's leading wrestler, advanced to the sectional in state competition before being eliminated. Coaching his boys to be fast and have endurance, Mr. Zimmerman wants to produce another first-rate team for Peoria High.

Again this year the increasingly popular intramural program provided exercise and fun for the boys not on the regular competitive teams. Under the supervision of Mr. Koepping it was a tremendous success. There was a total of fourteen teams competing in the junior-senior and the fresh-soph leagues. The junior-senior champs were the Six-Packs who had an eight win and no losses record. The Winners, the aptly-named fresh-soph league winner, had a perfect record of six wins and no losses.

Cross Country Displays Fine Ability

With seven wins and five losses John Deal's 1960 cross country team finished with a fairly good record. The hill-trotters came in fourth in the Mid-State Eight, running to a third place in the district meet. The Lions finished twelfth in the fifth Peoria Invitational and sixth in the Sterling Invitational. Cindermen Place Second in Mid-State Eight

The 1960 track team for Peoria High compiled a very fine record of five wins, one loss, and one tie. Coach Dick Whitaker led an eager young team to second place in the Mid-State Eight. The tracksters also won fifth place at the Kewanee and the Woodruff Relays, and a first at the Delaven Invitational. The Lions placed third at the state district qualifying meet. Central ranked high at the State meet when the mile relay took eighth place, and Carl Kimbral and Tom Halperin placed seventh and ninth in the 440. With only three lettermen gone for 1961, Peoria High is a strong contender in the Mid-State Eight.

Psychological attitude as well as muscular coordination plays an important role in the game of golf. Each member of the team must play his best golf at all times in order to retain their rank on the squad. Before each match Coach Hawkins holds playoffs or challenge matches among the individual linksmen.

This year's squad played their best and finished second in district tourney and third in the Mid-State Eight With Neumann as their home course, Central's golf team had the much-appreciated help and supervision of pro Fred Springer. Seniors Larry King, Bill Augesburger, and Dave McDonald led the team to seven wins and three losses.

CLASSES

Our senior year rushed by us,

CLASS OFFICERS FROM TOP: Bill Banta, president; Eric Perry, vice-president; Jim Lovier, treasurer; Bob Hunter, secretary.

Holding memories for a lifetime, this CREST is for us seniors. The last four years now seem like only one. All of the tests, term papers, and long assignments soon will be blended into a pleasant memory of a young, happy life. We grew in size and character, some of us growing taller than the rest. We worked, laughed, played, cried, cheered, sang, and incessantly talked. These were the most enjoyable years of our short lives, for our minds and bodies were becoming adults'. Each year we took on more responsibility, serving our school and community with leadership, participation, and effort. Eager to do and learn, we searched for the meaning of our lives. We found meaning in the acceptance of responsibility. Reaching for adulthood, many of us had to take on responsibility for the work of others as well. Leading our school's organizations, we gave our help to underclassmen who still felt unsure of themselves.

Our senior year was a busy and exciting one with College Board Tests, scholarship tests, awards, college and applications, and getting ready for graduation. We are honored and pleased to have been part of Peoria High School. We have served her well. Now we are ready to face the future, hoping for the best and working toward our goal.

CLASS SPONSORS: Mr. Sommer, Mrs. Webster, Mr. D. Whitaker, Miss Albright.

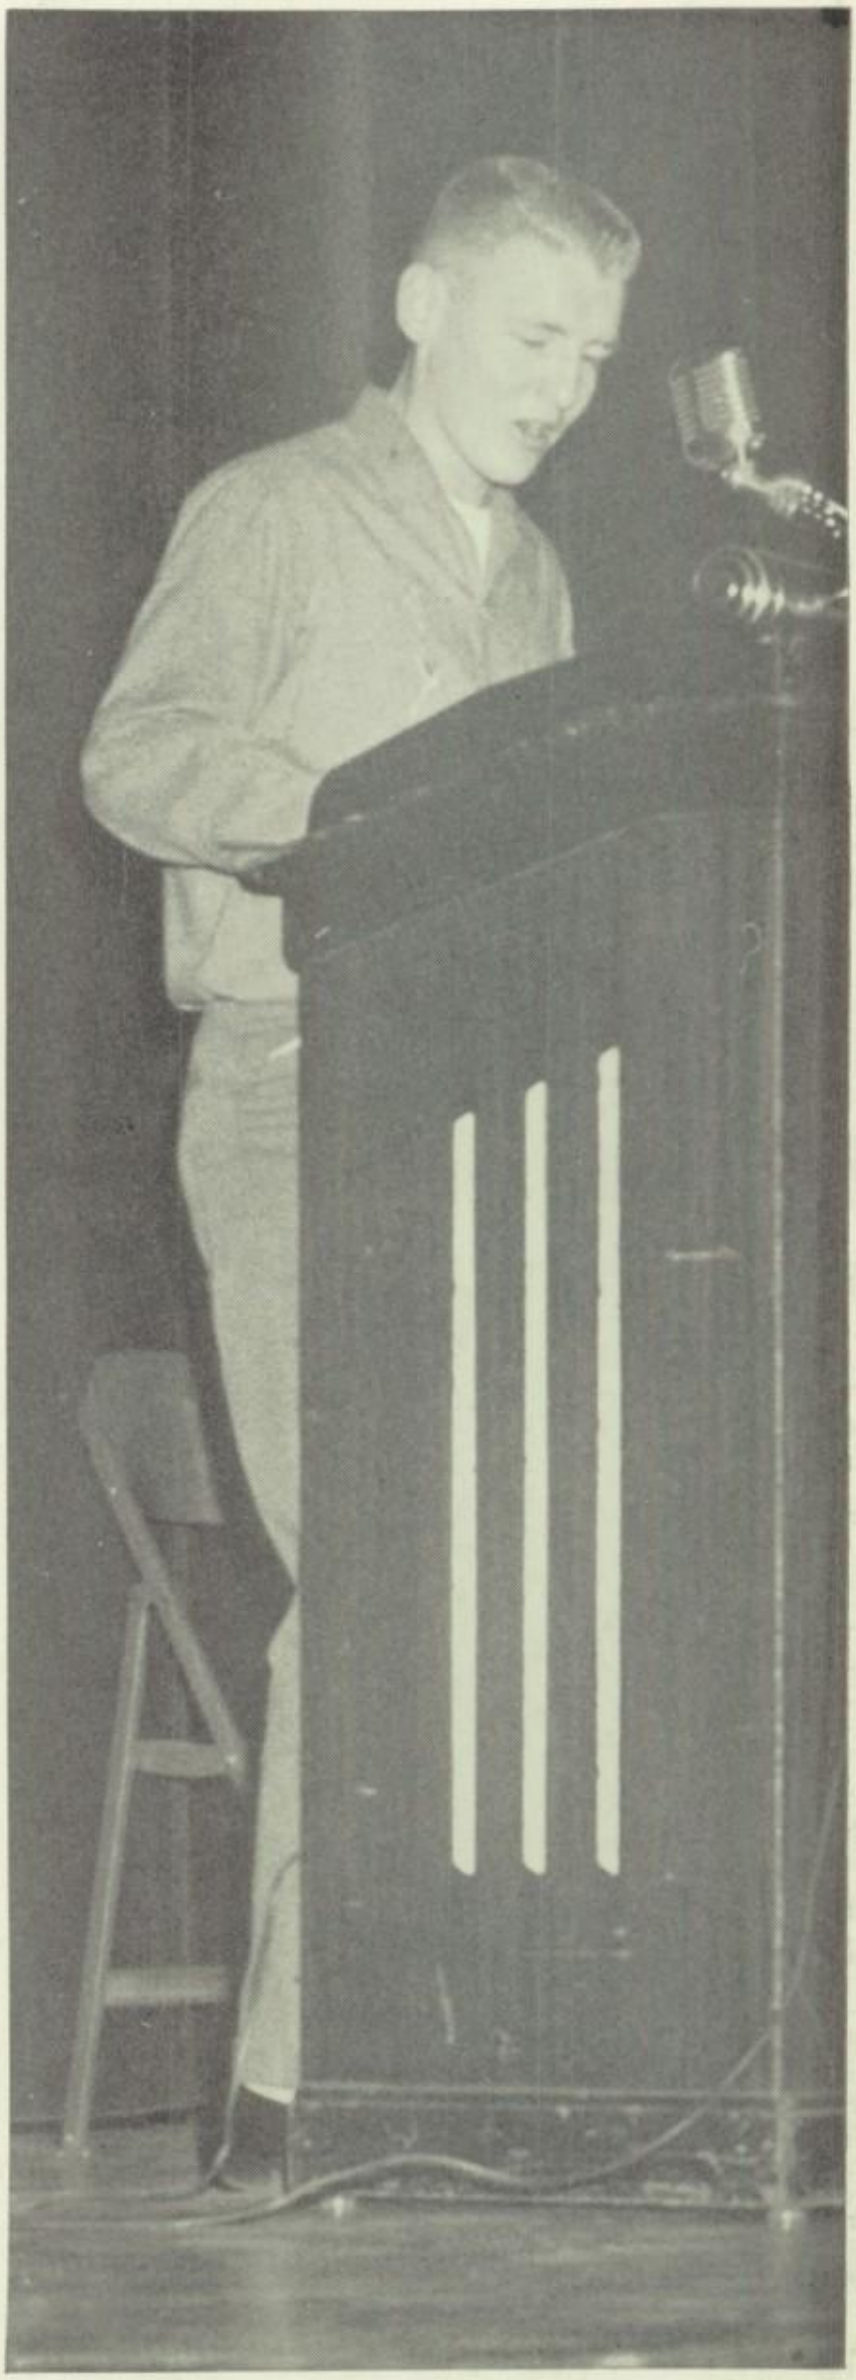
STEVIE'S AIRPORT RESTAURANT sets the scene for a Saturday night dinner date for Jeff O'Neill and Marilyn Nelson.

as friends say good-bye and go their ways.

ON CREST DAY Carolyn Judkins, Carol Clauss, and Marty Jordan are busily autographing yearbooks for their friends.

A dinner date before the dance, a speech that brought us honor—these filled our lives with enjoyment and excitement. Using our abilities, we strive for office. Others played our games for us, and sang for us. We did our part, too. Working with others, we strengthened character and made life more enjoyable. We discovered the pleasure of a pleasant night of talk and activity. Most of us dated. We were growing up.



THE STATE OF our treasurer is reported by Jim Lovier at a Senior Class meeting.

Some friends and pleasures will

Honors, work and pleasures are all memories of our senior year. We were an intelligent, lively class, looking and learning and seeing. We were proud to be members of the class of 1961.

and what Central has taught us will endure.

Finding new pleasures, new experiences, our world opened for us. Lively and eager, we joined many activities. We worked off the drudgery of long hours of school by physical exertion, food, and talk.

Satisfying our desires, we tried on new talents. Extra work, long hours paid off for us, as we successfully conquered our fears and tried harder. We enriched our minds and found pleasure in accomplishment. Recognition and honor pushed us to do a little more, to think a little harder. It was satisfying to know that we successfully accomplished what we aimed for.

The biggest accomplishment for all of us was graduating. It took four years to do it, but most of us finally made it. We look back and think how far it seemed at the beginning of high school, and now we have all of it behind us.

Many times we sought counsel and guidance from our patient advisors. With their aid new fields of opportunity and learning opened to us. We planned each succeeding year of high school with the goal of graduation just above our heads.

Our goals are

TAKING A REFRESHING break from our school work and responsibilities, we balance our hectic lives with play.

one step closer.

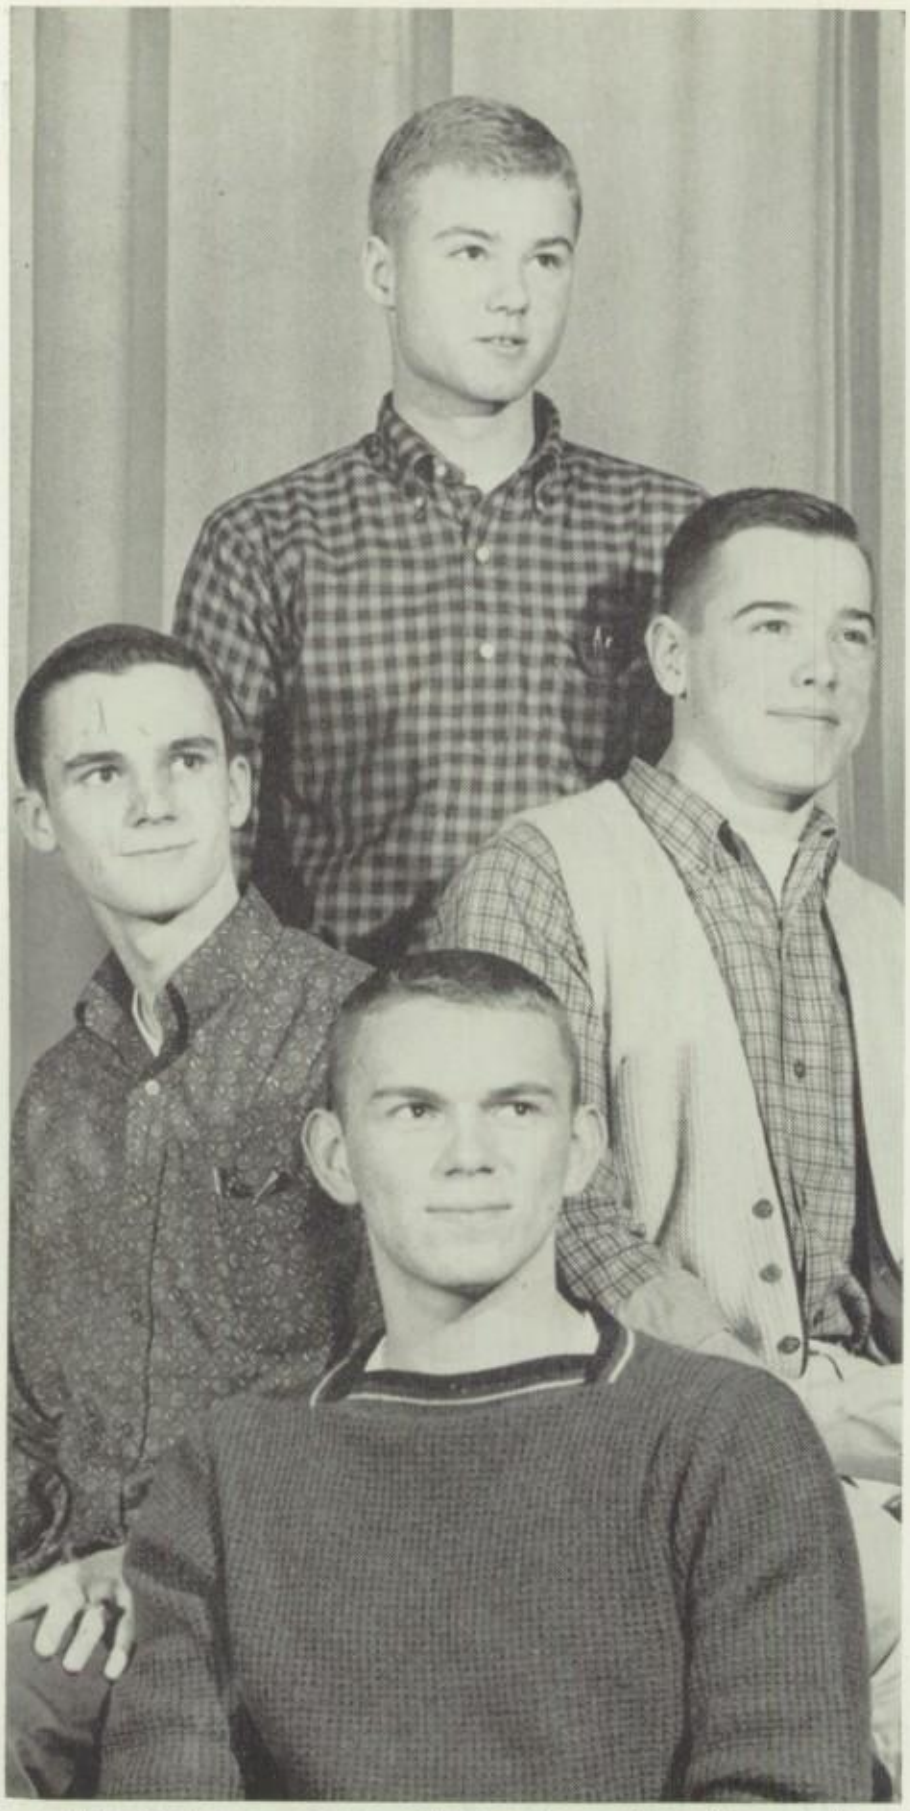
Studying, planning, seeking, and playing—our lives were filled with activity. In spite of everything else, schoolwork came first in our budget of time and energy. Our curious minds led us beyond the daily assignments, deep into the mysteries of knowledge. Often surprising ourselves, we spent extra hours doing homework.

For those whose curiosity and yearning got the better of them, college and further education was the answer. Choosing a college was an important decision. Schools were visited, bulletins studied, and hopes for acceptance came true for us. Some had disappointments, but all were worked out in the end.

Our busy lives overflowed onto the dance floor, the skating rink, and the basketball court. Balancing our work with our play, we shouted, played games, gossiped, and rested.

Underlying our activity was a searching for truth and meaning. Seeking to understand the world, we turned to spiritual guidance and found the answer.

WE FACE THE FUTURE with hope and determination. Heidi Hoffman and John Moore.



Mike Cook, treasurer; Larry Norton, vice-president; Darmon Kuntz, president; Larry Rager, secretary.

We started our Junior year . . .

Chemistry smells still linger about our clothes as we look back to our junior year at Central. Our first project as the junior class was to present Cinderella for the stunt shows—a smash hit with the juniors. The American Field Service winner will spread the fame of our class to foreign lands. Winners in the National Merit Scholarship are eligible for scholarships as a reward for long hours of toil. The College Day at Peoria High made us realize that college is very near. Eagerly thinking of next year, we elected next year's Student Council president and the members of Council.

Working and hoping, we are stimulated to aim higher, and we are already planning for college, jobs, and marriage. All that is left now of our high school life is our senior year—the most important one.

and buying tickets for our long-awaited Prom.

RON EISELE FINDS that it is easier to pay $2.75 for his ticket from Pam Herman and Ramona Gibbs when he thinks of the evening of fun ahead at the Junior Prom.

The Junior Prom

In the background of a Southern mansion . . . delightful melodious music . . . starched white shirts . . . flowing formals . . . a sprinkling fountain . . . a formal atmosphere . . . graceful weeping willow branches . . . the smell of magnolia blossoms . . . a mild spring breeze . . . dancing till midnight . . . Belles and Beaux . . . all give the mood of the Old South to our wonderful Junior Prom.

Charles Burnett, vice-president; Christie Roth, president; Mary Meisinger, secretary; John Van Winkle, treasurer.

We gained experience as Sophomores through . . .

We sophomores can be proud of ourselves, for our school could not have done well without us. The upperclassmen learned a lesson when we took over the basketball team. Being a spirited class, we have memories which we will never forget.

The sophomore stunt show demonstrated our class spirit, which has increased through the year. Doctors of Frogology, plane and solid geometry, and tuberculosis shots punctured our year with honors, work, and pain. Receiving the sacred driver's license, we showed the world that we knew how to handle ourselves. Attending the games of the sophomore athletic teams, we cheered them on to victory. We moved forward this year, working long and hard to learn what our teachers and parents were telling us.

Even now we are planning for college—arranging schedules, taking tests, and watching our grades. Half-way through high school, we eagerly await our junior year.

As uncertain Freshmen . . .

At first we Freshmen were lost and bewildered by the crowds of students pushing through the halls. Hordes of books, study hall passes, pep assemblies, games and elections rushed at us all at once. Our time and energy were swallowed up in high school.

By the time we learned how to work our combinations, we were taking it all in. We took part in our first stunt show and our clubs and sports.

From the first grades we received to the last final exam, we rapidly became a part of P.H.S. Its games, assemblies, "pop tests," and new friends belonged to us. The year went faster than we realized. We enjoyed our first year at Central, and confidently are ready for the next three.

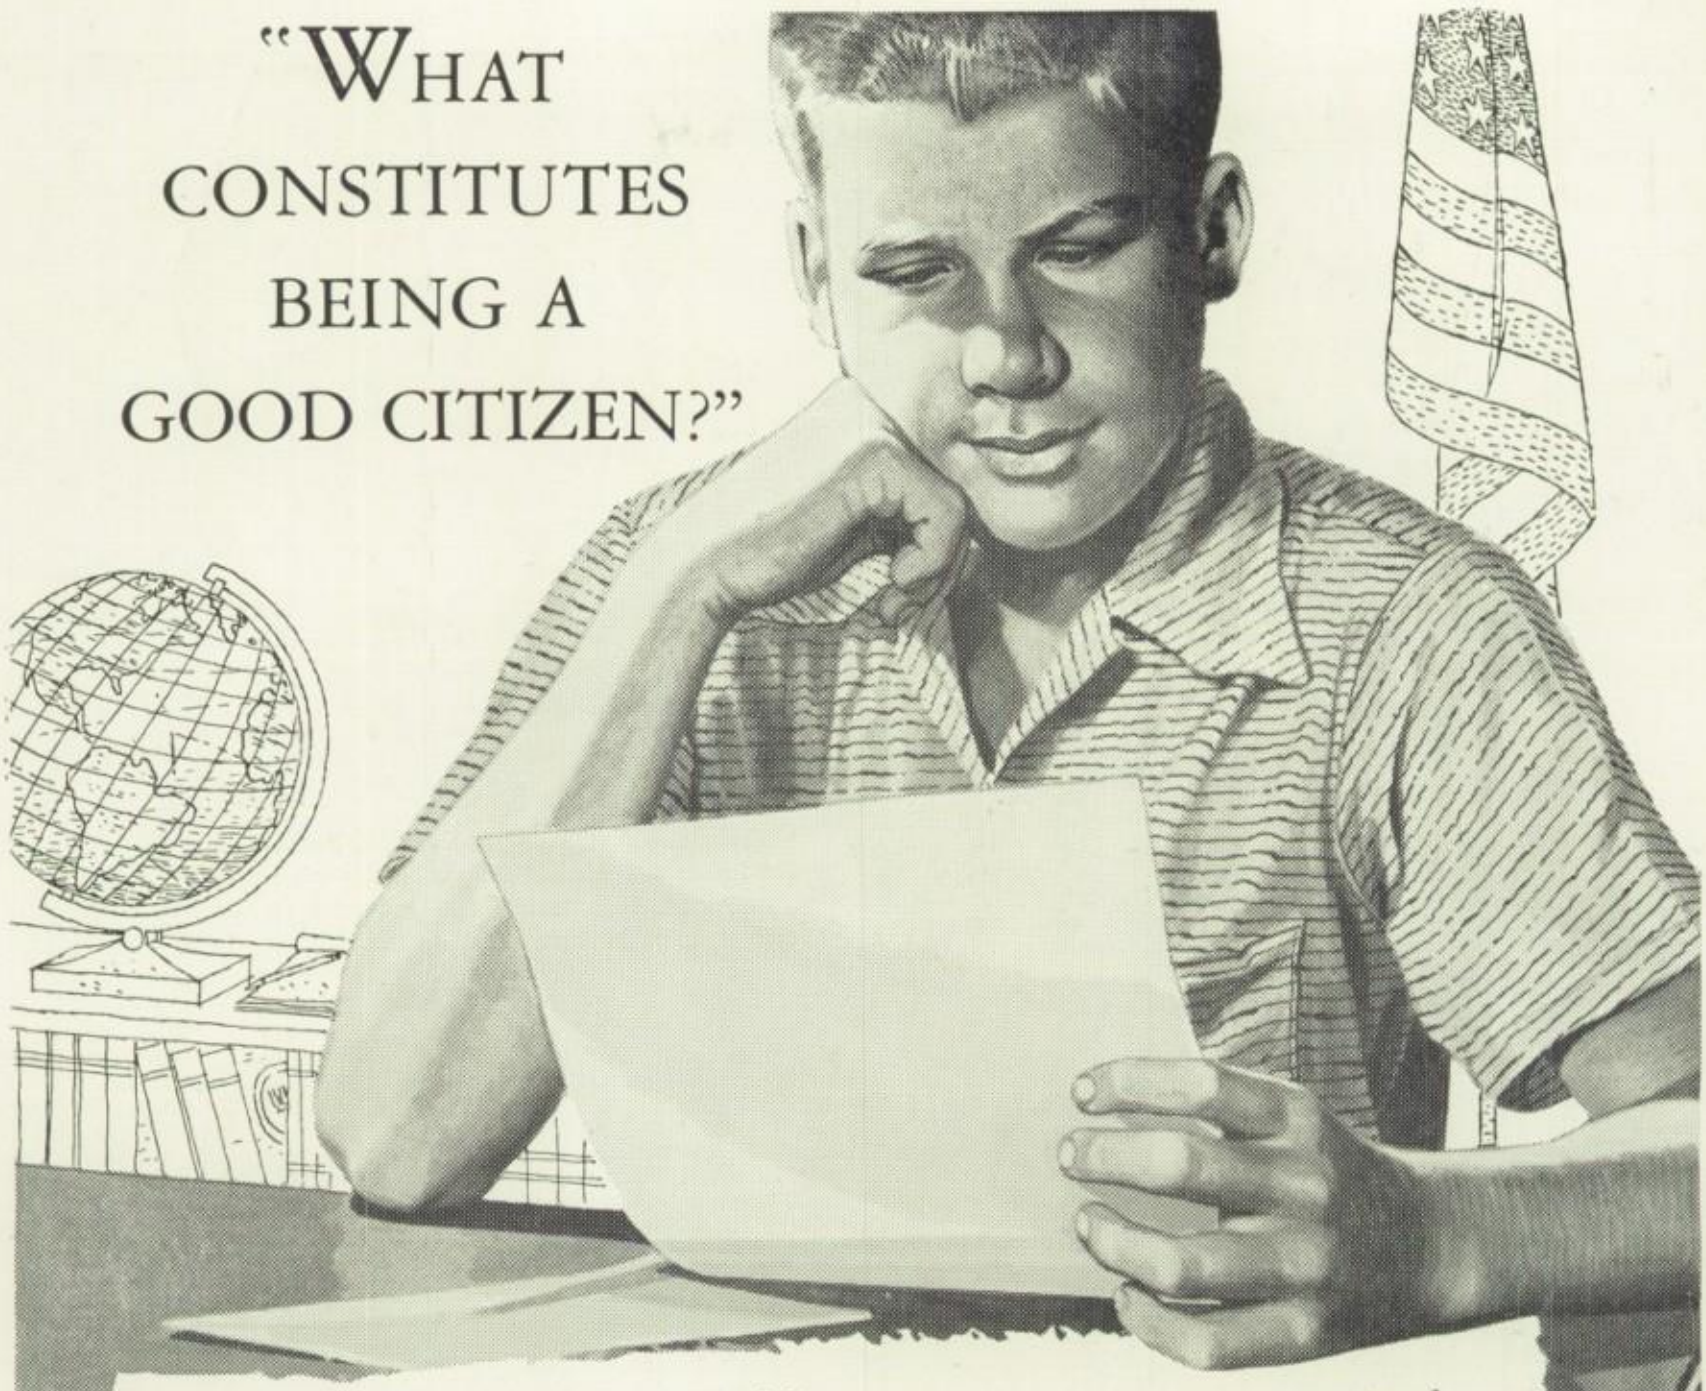
"WHAT CONSTITUTES BEING A GOOD CITIZEN?"



How would you answer this question? It came from an eighth grade student as a part of a class citizenship project.

HERE'S THE WAY A CATERPILLAR EXECUTIVE ANSWERED IT:

"To describe a good citizen in a few words is most difficult—much like trying to describe our great country in a few words. However, some qualifications of a good citizen certainly would be:

- A fundamental belief in God.
- A deep sense of honesty and integrity.
- Moral character above reproach—the result of personal convictions rather than fear of public opinion.
- An interest in one's community coupled with a willingness to work long and hard for its betterment.
- A true sense of value, recognizing that there is no such thing as something for nothing. Everything we achieve, everything we get, must be earned.
- A love of the freedoms guaranteed by our Constitution and Bill of Rights, and a willingness to protect these freedoms.
- A desire to search for and find the truth and not be swayed by the emotions of others.
- A sense of duty when it comes to exercising our great American privilege of voting, based on thoughtful consideration of the issue or office involved—and the same sense of duty when jury, military or public office responsibilities should be met.

It is difficult indeed to describe citizenship in a few words. I hope these thoughts will be helpful."

Dick Warren, Linda Szold, Celeste Neuman, and Bob Bovenschulte walk the path of the future at Bradley University.

The Quest for Knowledge . . .

. . . . is not over once the high school cap and gown is donned. In fact, graduation is just the launching pad for attaining those post-grad goals. In such modern times as these, whether it is on the job, in the home, or on the college campus, maybe we tend to lose sight of the fact that the educational process is never really completed. We find, that the longer we live, the less we know and the search for knowledge and understanding is never finished.

Phyllis -
It's been soo much fun knowing you this year. I hope you always remember the fun in English and in P.E.! Hope you have fun next year at P.H.S. Always stay sweet, nice, and cute as you are now. Best of luck in the future.

Cheer Miller

Good luck in the future.

Good luck to a real swell girl. It has been a long year in history but is almost over. Have good luck.
